This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

In the following pages, for Representatives, I have arranged the towns after the first insertion, by figures, alphabetical, by counties, so that a person can easily follow a town through, by observing its number at the beginning, and follow the same to 1850. Before 1788, the Speakers are in small capitals, and after that are in italic. The figures before the county officers, 1 denotes Chief Judge, 2 Side Judges, 3 Clerks, 4 Sheriffs, 5 State's Attorneys, 6 Judges of Probate, 7 Registers of Probate. Where inverted commas and a name are in one column, the person in the previous column served a part of the year.

TO THE PUBLIC.

It is expected in perusing a new book to find some reasons given why such a work is published. In this case an enquiry will be made, why is this work put forth when nothing new can be obtained from it, as the Journals of the Legislatures, Conventions, &c., and even Walton's Registers contain it all? I admit that if a person had those Journals and Registers at his command, he might learn many facts which he is now ignorant, and will probably remain so, if he depends on that source only for his information. You may go into any Town Clerk's Office in this State, and if you can find a complete set of the Legislative journals, you will succeed better than I have done in any office or Library that I have visited, not even the State Library contain the journals of 1786, but I found one in Rutland. The journals are nearly all scattered "few and far between." The University at Burlington have for many years been collecting a perfect set of those journals, but a short time since, they had not obtained them. As for the Registers nearly every one knows, that notwithstanding all the useful information therein contained, and that which every family ought to purchase yearly and preserve, is, soon after New year's day given to the youngest child to destroy, or deposited in the attic for the mice, to shelter them from the rude blasts of winter. The President of the Antiquarian Society, and some others within my knowledge, have been many years trying to gather up a complete set of Vermont Registers, but as yet have not been successful. As for obtaining the information herein contained, from Journals and Registers without costing a person ten times the price of the book, is folly to think of. But if a person does not wish for the information for himself or family, I have laid him under no obligation to purchase, as I have not a solitary subscriber in the State. A person may go into every town in this State that has been organized sixty years, and in nine out of ten he will be unable to obtain from any source, written or verbal, who have represented the town each year since its organization.

And furthermore, such a bold and fearless body of men as first settled Vermont, and safely carried her through all her various encounters with her numerous enemies, and safely landed her on the shores of this glorious Union with peace and plenty, deserve to have their names written in letters of gold and handed down to the last man of the last generation that shall inhabit the earth.

LEONARD DEMING.

Middlebury, May 30, 1851.

In arranging the following pages, I have endeavored to give the year in which the term of office began. In taking from the journals I found no difficulty of getting it right, nor from the Registers, only, I had to take the year previous. The term of office of the Legislative appointments in nearly all cases commenced on the first of December of the same year, but in Clerks of Courts, and Registers of Probate, it has been more difficult to get right, as some of the Courts and some of the Probate Courts do not sit till after the commencement of the year following, and their appointments being made at those sessions, my correspondents have given me the wrong year. But I have remedied that in many cases, by taking a political view of the Courts that made the appointments, and the time the first Court was holden after the Judges were appointed. I have endeavored to give the facts as they were, but I do not flatter myself to suppose that errors do not exist in the work which I have not yet ascertained. I have already found some which will be mentioned in an erratta. I have in some instances had wrong information from correspondents, which they have afterwards discovered, and rectified, but too late to prevent the error occurring.

GENERAL ETHAN ALLEN,

Was born in Roxbury, Conn., in 1739, and died at Colchester, Vt., Feb. 15, 1789. The following is related of him as having taken place while a prisoner in irons on his passage to England. While closely confined to his cabin, he discovered that a pin or wire that fastened one of his handcuffs was broken. Extricating the pieces with his teeth, he was enabled to loosen the bolt and set one hand at liberty, by the aid of which, and his teeth, he soon had both at liberty, and he was not long in liberating his feet. But fearing a discovery might lead to worse treatment, he replaced his irons, bolts and pins before the arrival of his keeper. It soon became a fine recreation for the General to take off and put on his irons at pleasure.

One day the Captain wishing to afford the crew some merriment, ordered that Allen be brought on deck. Hoping to frighten him, the Captain said: "There is a probability that the ship will founder—if so, what will become of us, especially you, Mr. Allen, a rebel against the King? "Why," said Allen, "that would be very much like our dinner hour." "Why so?" said the Captain not reflecting that Allen was not allowed to come on deck only when he the captain went down into his cabin to dine. "Well, you see, answered Allen, "I'd be on my way up just as you would be going below." This answer did not please the Captain, and he began a regular tirade of abuse against the American people. "In a short time," said the Captain, "all the rebels will be in the same situation as yourself." This was too much for Allen, and raising his hands to his teeth, soon snapped the bolts and pins, took off his irons and threw them overboard—seized the panic struck Captain by the collar, and threw him headlong upon the deck, then turning to the affrighted crew, he exclaimed in a voice of thunder. "If I am insulted again during the voyage, I'll sink the ship and swim ashore." This exploit had such an effect on the Captain and crew, that no further insult was offered to the General during the passage.

The tract of country now known by the name of Vermont, was, previous to the American Revolution, known by the name of "The New Hampshire Grants," and was divided into four counties, by the Government of the then Colony of New York, viz: Cumberland and Gloucester on the east, and Bennington and Charlotte on the west of the range of Green Mountains. But by a careful perusal of facts of those times it does most plainly appear that the inhabitants of the Grants were not very obedient subjects to those New Yorkers who volunteered to rule over them. Soon after the Declaration of Independence at Philadelphia, in July, 1776, the Green Mountain Boys, concluded they were not under the rule of any earthly nation or government except their own. They therefore called a Convention of Delegates from the several towns, which Convention met at Dorset, July 24, 1776, but no records show what steps were then taken, only it was adjourned to Sept. 25th, same year, when it again met at the same place, as appears from the following record:

Wilmington and Cumberland were represented by letters from some of the principal inhabitants.

Among the proceedings of this Convention at that time were the following: To take suitable measures as soon as may be, to declare the New Hampshire Grants a free and separate district, which vote passed without a dissenting voice. A committee of seven reported the wrongs and grievances suffered from New York, and the impolicy of any further connection with them, directly or indirectly. Resolved, Therefore, that this Convention being fully convinced, that it is absolutely necessary that every individual in the United States of America should exert themselves to the utmost of their abilities in the defence of the liberties thereof; therefore, that this Convention, may the better satisfy the public of their punctual attachment to the said common cause at present as well as heretofore, we do make and subscribe the following covenant, viz.:

We, the subscribers, inhabitants of that district of land commonly called and known of New Hampshire Grants, being legally delegated and authorized to transact the public and political affairs of the aforesaid district for ourselves and constituents, do solemnly covenant and engage, that for the time being, we will strictly and religiously adhere to the several resolves of this or any future convention constituted on said district by the free voice of the friends to American liberties, which shall not be repugnant to the resolves of the honorable the Continental Congress, relative to the cause of America.

The Convention met again at Westminster, January 15, 1777. The committee appointed to bring in a draught of a Declaration of Independence reported:

Right 1. That whenever protection is withheld, no allegiance is due, or can of right be demanded. The committee then after repeating the wrongs from New York, offered the following declaration: "This Convention, whose members are duly chosen by the free voice of their constituents in the several towns, on the New Hampshire Grants, in public meeting assembled, in our own names, and in behalf of our constituents, do hereby proclaim and publicly declare, that the district of territory, comprehending and usually known by the name and description of the New Hampshire Grants, of right ought to be, and is hereby declared forever hereafter to be considered, as a free and independent jurisdiction, or State; by the name, and forever hereafter to be called, known, and distinguished by the name of New Connecticut, alias Vermont, &c."

This Convention after informing the Continental Congress of their doings, adjourned to meet at Windsor, on the first Wednesday in June.

The above declaration brought down upon us the wrath of New York, but notwithstanding that, those brave Green Mountain Boys, whom any nation or people on earth might well be proud of, followed up their declaration by the adoption of a Constitution the same year, and a Legislative session in March following. In February, 1779, the Legislature passed an act in the face and eyes of the New York law dividing the State into two counties, Bennington on the west and Cumberland on the east of the Green Mountains, and divided each county into two shires each, Westminster and Newbury on the east, and Bennington and Rutland on the west. That division of counties remained till the extra session of the Legislature in Feb. 1781, when the County of Rutland was incorporated, from Bennington and Windsor and Orange counties were incorporated from Cumberland, and the name of Cumberland altered to Windham.

Zadock Thompson, in his history of Vermont, says, that Chittenden County was incorporated October 22d, 1782, and Addison County Feb. 27, 1787. This is a mistake as to both Counties, as will be seen by the following extract of a letter from Mr. Thompson to a friend, who had addressed him on the subject: "While in Montpelier a few days since, I was induced, by your suggestions, to examine the manuscript acts in the office of the Secretary of State, and I there found that Addison County was incorporated October 18th, 1785, and that Chittenden County was incorporated October 22nd, 1787." This explanation explains a mystery which was hard to solve, which was, "how came Addison County Court to set in Colchester at their Nov. Term, 1786, and one of Chittenden County citizens for the first Sheriff, in 1785, and one of her citizens for side Judge 1785,and another in 1786," for such are the facts, and as appeared it was all done over one year before Addison County was incorporated. When the County of Addison was incorporated it included within its boundaries the present county, (except Granville and Orwell,) the whole of Chittenden, Franklin, Grand Isle, and Lamoille, nine towns from Orleans, and eight from Washington Counties, and that was the size of the County till Oct. 19, 1787, when Kingston, now Granville, was annexed to it from Orange County, and three days after by the incorporation of Chittenden County. Addison County was reduced to its present dimensions, except Starksboro' has been added from Chittenden, and Orwell from Rutland, and a part of Philadelphia in Rutland has been added to Goshen, and a part of Goshen has been set to Rochester, and the town of Warren in 1829 was annexed to Washington County. Avery's Gore has been annexed to Lincoln, altering no County lines. The first County Court in Addison County, was holden at Addison, on the first Tuesday in March, 1786, and continued to be holden there, (with the exception of the November term of that year which was held at Colchester,) till the first of April, 1792, and since that all the sessions have been holden at Middlebury.

The Counties of Caledonia and Franklin were incorporated Nov. 8th, 1796, the former from Orange and the latter from Chittenden Counties. The Legislature on the 2d day of March, 1797, passed an act defining the boundaries of eleven counties, including the whole State, but left the Counties of Essex and Orleans to be connected with Caledonia and Franklin for all purposes till a future Legislature should elect their County officers, which was done at the October Session, 1797 as to Orleans County, and for Essex County, the County officers were appointed at the Oct. session 1800. Thus the State remained with eleven Counties till the organization of Grand Isle County, which took place in November, 1805. After the sessions of the Legislature were established at Montpelier, and that became a thriving town, the Legislature saw fit in 1811, to organize a new County of which Montpelier was near the centre, by the name of Jefferson, containing 15 towns from the adjoining Counties of Orange, Caledonia and Chittenden. In 1814, when the Federal party were predominent in every branch of the government, the name of the County was changed to "Washington," and has retained that name since. In 1836, the County contained 19 towns by the addition of Elmore from Orleans, Woodbury from Caledonia, Roxbury from Orange, and Warren from Addison. In 1336, the County of Lamoille was incorporated by taking Stowe and Elmore from Washington, Mansfield, which has since been annexed to Stowe from Chittenden; Eden, Hydepark, Morristown and Wolcott from Orleans, and the other five towns from Franklin, and the State has remained in that situation since till 1848, when the towns of Windsor, and Montpelier were divided into two towns each, West Windsor and East Montpelier, making 240 organized towns in the State.

This year ended the old Connecticut practice of all the Clergymen going to Election, and dining at the expense of the State, and have a sermon from one of them. Some of the most radical members came to the conclusion that the money and time thus spent might be put to a better use. They therefore resolved to have no more Election Sermons with accompanying expenses after 1834 unless it should be otherwise ordered in future This has not yet been done; but whether any very materiel benefit has been effected by the change is a doubt in the minds of many. If a Farmer hired a man to mow in his meadow six days, & he should go earley to the meadow and swing his sythe a few times on the sixth day. then quit and go home, there is a doubt whether that farmer would feel disposed to pay full price for that last day. But if the man had taken his pay for the six days, and quit on the fourth day morning, it might be some less doubtful how that farmer would act, but would he be apt to hire him again?

HON. STEPHEN HAIGHT,

Of Monkton, commenced in legislation while young, he first represented the town in 1812, and was elected each year to 1822, eleven years, and three years afterwards. He was four years judge of the County Court, and four years Sheriff, ending the last office in 1832. In the fore part of his public life he belonged to the old Federal School in politics, and figured very adroitly in effecting the election of Martin Chittenden, Governor in 1813. The federal members of the legislature and many others of the party met at Montpelier the fore part of election week, and there found, on comparing notes, that unless some of the freemens votes were rejected, there would be a federal majority of four in the House, and a republican majority of ten in the Council. It was then found that rejecting the votes from Colchester on account of a part of them being given by the U. S. troops, and altering the votes of a few other towns, it would elect three more federal members in the Council, and bring the Joint Assembly to a tie, 112 each. The canvassing committee with a large federal majority carried out the measures concocted in Caucus, and brought the legislature to a tie. Thus legislation stood nearly still for a week, but tampering with a republican member to carry a load to Boston, at a great profit did not stand so still, a few federal leaders kept that moving, but not to much purpose, as he staid in the house and voted for Jonas Galusha throughout, making a tie, 112 each. After a number of ballots the votes were reported 112 for Martin Chittenden. and 111 only for Jonas Galusha. It has caused many conjectures as to who was guilty, or negligent, as to that vote lacking. From an examination of the Journal it might be readily inferred that Judge Kinne, a republican member from Plainfield, was at fault, but although he was very feeble, and scarsely able to leave his lodgings, he did attend on the election of Governor and voted till all was done, and the fault must lie at anothers door. There were four test votes taken during the maneuvering to get the two branches together, and one after, and at each the federal vote was 108, and the highest on the other side was 103, and that only once. There was a member of the house that year from a small town in the southerly part of Bennington County, and for the first time, and last but one, that was counted with the republicans; but by an examination of the five test votes as stated, he voted twice on the federal side, twice on the republican, and on the other he did not vote, and if he carried out his principles as he began, I shold look no further to find where that missing vote did not come from.

Whenever Mr. De Forest, a federalist, or the Speaker, did not vote, the name of the gentleman from Bennington County would help up the number to 108 on all the test votes. And it is possible that Mr. De Forest being unwell, retired before the last vote was taken, being satisfied that his old helper would help him again.

In the latter part of Judge Haight's term of legislation he became quite radical, and was influential in procuring the passage of a bill for reducing the fees of many officers, including the County Court Judges, of which he was one. When the Clerk of the court had counted out the amount due each Judge at the end of a session, which was much reduced under his own bill. The Judge looked on the money as if in a quandary about taking it. Judge Olin observed, "O ! take it by all means, Judge, and nurse it up as it is one of your own children.,'

In 1821 he got a law passed for enlarging the jurisdiction of justices of the peace to $100, and restricting appeals for a less amount claimed than $10 This law very materialy affected the attornies, as it much reduced their business in the higher courts; and they tried to prevent the passage of the bill, and to get it repealed afterward. In 1824 a violent effort was made to repeal the 5th. section, which prevented appeals from a justice under $10. Judge Haight arose and began, "Mr. Speaker, we have heard much said against this little 5th. section of the act of 1821, and I challenge any gentleman upon this floor, if he knows of any injustice being done under the operation of that section, let the house have the facts, we can then act understandingly", Mr. Fletcher of Lyndon informed the house of a case within his knowledge. Mr. A had given a note to Mr. B for a good likely cow at a stated time, which was not paid, and a suit brought, and the justice concluded that a good likely cow was worth $17, and gave a verdict accordingly, which was paid. Soon after Mr. A found a justice who thought that $15 was as much as a good likely cow was worth, and he gave out a writ against Mr. B, and gave judgment that Mr. A recover back $2 and cost, and not appealable as the law now stands. Some other cases were mentioned, and one by Esq. Bell of Walden, in his peculiar mode of deliv. ery, about an old saw, in which it appeared that some injustice had been done. Judge Haight wished to know whether those corrupt justices were now in office, and found they were not. That is the best way, said the judge, if you find justices that are corrupt, and do injustice, turn them out of office, and let the law remain as it is. This brought up Isaac N. Cushman, of Hartland, who said "Mr. Speaker, the argument of the gentleman from Monkton reminds me of a French King who kept a Jester, and this jester had offended one of the Lords of the Court, and the Lord threatened to kill him·

The jester informed the King what the Lord had threatened. Said the King, "if he kills you I will have him hung in fifteen minutes afterwards." I do wish your Majesty would hang him fifteen minutes before, it would make no materiel difference with him, but a very essential difference with me. Just so with the argument of the gentleman from Monkton, he would hang those corrupt justices who have done injustice under this law, but I am for repealing that law under

The Judge was subsequently admitted as an attorney at the Bar, and removed to Burlington, where he vigorously advocated the election and measures of Andrew Jackson to the Presidency.

He afterwards removed to Washington City where he acted as an agent in the Pension business. He was a number of timesappointed Sergeant at Arms, in the Senate, which office he held at his death, January 12, 1841, aged 58.

*By an examination of SLADE'S VERMONT STATE PAPERS, you will find the particulars of a Union formed by a part of New Hampshire, and a part of New York, with Vermont, for the extension of the latter; and representatives were admitted from those states to act in the legislature a number of times, till their October session 1781, holden at Charlestown, N. H., the connection was brought to an end. On this and the next page you will find the names of the representatives from those two states, one of which was chosen Clerk in 1778, and another Lieut. Governor in 1781.

*The town of Salisbury claim Judge Painter as their Representative in 1787, in consequence of a new running of town lines, taking his house unexpectedly, two or three rods south of the south line of Middlebury, and the journals of that year support their claim; but I have not yet learned that they claim him in 1786, although living in the same house both years. Nor have I been informed of their laying any claim to Thomas Sawyer who represented Leicester in 1787, 8 and 9, although he resided on the disputed territory between the two towns, and on that part which is now Salisbury village.

The foregoing pages contain all the Representatives previous to the year 1788, that are to be found. The journals of March, 1778, and of October, 1786, do not contain a catalogue of the members, but I think I have both nearly accurate.

The remainder will be arranged by counties alphabetically, and will come as even as any mode without dividing counties. By the figures before the towns, the reader will be enabled to follow any town through the work to 1850.

HON. HENRY OLIN

Came into Leicester at an early day. and from his large dimensions and rather awkward habits, the people were not at first much prepossessed in his favor. But being of a strong mind and full of wit and anecdote, prejudices began to wear away, and he was chosen a Representative in 1799 and continued to be chosen for twenty-two out of twenty-six years. He was two years a member of the Council, and three years Lieutenant Governor, and one short session was a member of Congress to supply the place of the Hon. Charles Rich, deceased. He was one of the Assistant Judges of the County Court for eight years, and Chief Judge fifteen years in succession from 1801 to 1824.

When he first began legislation it was a new business to him, and the sound of his own voice would sometimes embarrass him in that body of talented men. An anecdote is related of him as follows: He arose from his seat and began "Mr. Speaker. I rise for information," and halted. Upon which another member arose and said: "Mr. Speaker I very much rejoice that the gentleman should arise with such a commendable object, for no man needs it more."

*Speakers in Italics.

He had among his townsmen an old gentleman that had taken a dislike to the Judge, but being politically agreed, he would support the Judge for office. On one occasion he came into meeting while the ballotting was going on,—pushed himself through the crowd to the box and spoke out in a loud voice, "here Mr. Constable is a vote for Judge Olin, but I hope God will forgive me." During his services on the bench he had given some offence to one of the young attornies, that has since disappointed many of his enemies. A person informed the Judge that this attorney was going to the Legislature to prevent him from being re-appointed. Well, said the Judge, I will tell the company a story. When I first came into Leicester, I built a log hut and began cutting down the forest east of it which enabled me to see the sun and moon as they rose, earlier than usual. I had a little dog, and he seeing the moon lower down than he had before, and shining through the trees concluded some mischief was on foot, and began to bark at the moon, and kept at it, and paused. Well, says one, "what next?" Why, I could not discover that it had any effect whatever on the moon, that kept on its course the same as if the dog had been silent, but I discovered the little dog was some hoarse for a few days, and I never knew him to bark at the moon again.

When the Judge took his seat in Congress in Dec., 1824, the weather was unpleasant and very different from what he was accustomed to see, and having but a short time to stay, his brother members were not very anxious for an acquaintance, and he was lonely. One of the members in conversation with him, wished to know how he liked Washington as compared with Vermont. The Judge said he liked some things in Washington very well, but he preferred Vermont in many respects, and one in particular, which is, here you have white butter and yellow girls, and in Vermont we have yellow butter and white girls.

The Judge removed to Salisbury in the spring of 1837, where he died the same year, aged about 70 years.

HON. SAMUEL C. CRAFTS

Is a son of Col. Ebenezer Crafts, who began the first settlement of Craftsbury in 1788, though he did not remove his family there till February, 1791, but was there himself and experienced many of the hardships incident to a life in the wilderness, having to draw the female part of his family, with others who came with him, from Cabot, 18 miles, on hand sleds with snow shoes, and snow four feet deep. The town was organized in March, 1792, and Samuel C. Crafts was the first Town Clerk, which office he held, by annual elections, till March, 1829, in which Joseph Scott (then Jun., was elected and has held it till Feb., 1851.) Samuel C. Crafts was born at Woodstock, in the county of Windham, State of Connecticut, on the 6th day of October, A. D. 1768. He graduated at Harvard University, Massachusetts, in July, 1790; and in the winter following came with his parents to Vermont. He was soon after chosen a delegate to a Convention which formed the Constitution at Windsor, July 4, 1793, and was the youngest member of that convention, and is believed to be the only one of that convention now living. He was also a member of the House of Representatives in 1796, 1800,-1, 3, and 5, and Clerk of the Assembly in 1798, and 9. He was a member of the Council in 1809. 1810, 1811, 1812, and would have been in 1813, had not the canvassing committee of that year viewed it be their duty to reject the votes returned from the town of Colchester.

He was appointed first Assistant Judge of Orleans County Court, on its first organization in 1800, and continued in that office till 1810, at which time he was appointed Chief Judge, and held that office till December 1st. 1816, in which year he was elected a member of Congress to commence March 4, 1817, and was three times subsequently elected and continued to March 3d, 1825; when he was again elected Councillor, which office he held for the two succeeding years. In October, 1825 he was appointed first Judge of the County Court which he held till December, 1828. In 1828 and 1829, he was chosen Governor of the State by the people, and in 1830 was Governor, but chosen by the Legislature. In the winter of 1842 he received from the Governor the appointment of Senator in Congress, in room of the Hon. Samuel Prentiss, who had resigned on being appointed a District Judge in the room of Judge Paine deceased. In the fall of that year he was elected by the Legislature to fill the vacancy in the Senate till March 3d, 1843. He was President of the Constitutional Convention of 1829.

In all the duties he has performed, "doing right" has been his principal object, and none has been able to say that he ever swerved from that. He still lives in Craftsbury, enjoying remarkable health and strength for one of his age.

*The town of Weybridge, politically, has been about even. This year, Samuel Jewett was returned a member by one majority. He took his seat in the House, which was politically against him, and it was contested, and the Committee on Elections reported that he was not duly elected. The House accepted the report by a vote of 98 to 77. and the seat left vacant. The old gentleman remarked, "I am on the gain, I had but one majority to come here, and I have got twenty-one majority to go home."

MATHEW LYON,

Who first represented Arlington in 1779, &c., and afterwards Fairhaven many times, endeavored to obtain the passage of an act giving him the exclusive right of Slitting Iron in Vermont. He had counted a member from a town very near Bennington, a political friend, as one of the supporters of his bill, but after hearing argument on both sides, the project looked like asking too much, and when his name was called to vote on the question, he asked to be excused, reasons were

REV. AARON LELAND,

Was settled over the Baptist society in Chester in 1788, and continued as their Pastor, till his death in 1833. He took an active part in politics as well as religion, being of the Jefferson school, was frequently elected to the offices of Selectman, Town Clerk, &c. He was chosen to represent the town in 1801, and was chosen nine years after, making ten years a member of the House, three years of which he was chosen Speaker, and was four years a Councillor, and five years was chosen Lieutenant Governor by the people. He was eighteen years one of the Assistant Justices of the County Court.—The Parson was fond of a good joke, and he had one neighbor, Hugh Henry, who was a match for him. On a Saturday evening, a young man, and moneyless, called at the Parson's house for supper and lodging. The Parson did not see fit to comply with the request, and sent him to his neighbor Henry, and assured him that he would be well provided for, but still the man will refuse you at first, but you stick to him and he will accommodate you. The young man called as diirected, and was refused. I was told you would refuse to keep me unless I stuck to you, which I shall do. Who told you that? said Mr. Henry, a large man at such a house. Well, if Parson Leland sent you here you shall stay, and what would you like for supper? O most any thing that comes handy, for I have no money to pay you. But what would you choose if you had money? I should like a good warm supper had I wherewith to pay you, for to be honest with you, I have had very little food to-day. A warm supper was soon provided, to which the young man paid his best respects, nor was he allowed to depart the next morning till he had done justice to a good breakfast. The young man was going to try his fortune in the western wilderness, and had a small dog with him. Just before he was ready to start, and being near meeting time, Mr. Henry informed his guest, that his dog was not a proper one to go into the wilderness with, and that he had a neighbor who had a large dog, and just the one for the woods among the wild animals, and he would like to exchange him for a small one, but no doubt he will refuse at first, and tell you to go about your business, I do not swap dogs on Sunday, and the like, but you stick to him and you will get his dog. The young man went to the house just as the Parson was starting for meeting and informed him that he had come to swap dogs, and received the answer that Mr. Henry predicted. Well I was told you would make such excuses, but that in case I stuck to you I should get your dog, and that, sir, you may rest assured I shall do, and went with the Parson to the steps of the meeting house. The Parson finding the man to be as good as his word, told him to go and take the dog, and be off in a hurry, and never trouble me again in this way. Mr. Henry outlived the Parson a few years, but their remains are both in one grave yard in Chester, and not far distant from each other as their grave stones show.

HON. SAMUEL SAFFORD

Was an early settler in Bennington, and among the early patriots who espoused the cause of Vermont in her controversy with New York, and the cause of the union in her revolutionary struggles with Great Britain. He was a Major in Col. Seth Warner's regiment, and served through the war, except he found time to represent the town of Bennington in the Legislature in 1781-2. In 1783 he was chosen a member of the Council and was annually chosen to that office for twenty-two years

The Council of Censors chosen in 1799, and 1806, did not order any convention to be holden, and no alterations were made in the Constitution by any convention between 1793 and 1829. The convention of 1829 made an amendment in relation to the voting of Foreigners, that made it necessary for them to become naturalized before they were allowed to vote in freemen's meeting. The convention of 1836 changed the old Council of 12, to a Senate of 30. The convention of 1843 made no alteration. The convention of 1850 changed the mode of electing County Court Judges, Sheriffs, High Bailiffs, State's Attornies, Judges of Probate, and Justices of the Peace, giving the appointment of those officers to the people of their several districts.

HON. GAMALIEL PAINTER

Came into Middlebury, from Salisbury, Conn., in company with John Chipman, from the same place, early in the year 1773, with a view of making a permanent settlement. Before they arrived, a Mr. Benjamin Smalley had come into town with his family for the same object, and builta small house, the first erected in town. They settled near together in the south west corner of the town. Chipman had commenced a clearing of six or eight acres in 1766 and abandoned it, as no one lived within many miles of him. When he returned he settled on the same lot that he first began upon, and where Jonathan Seeley now resides. Painter settled near a mile south of him on the south line of the town, as the lines are now established, and Smalley about half a mile west of Chipman. Thus the settlement continued to increase till the ravages of the war caused them all to abandon their homes in June, 1776, except Benjamin Smalley and a Mr. Daniel Foot, and they followed in September after. After the close of the war, in 1783, many of those who had left in 1776, with others returned to the town, and became permanent settlers. Thompson's Vermont, does not inform us whether Painter or Chipman returned or not. Gamaliel Painter and John Chipman re-

Painter removed into the village in 1787 and built a saw mill and grist mill on the east side of the creek on the site of Wood's grist mill and the cotton factory. Judge Painter represented the town in 1786, 7, 8, 9, 90, 1, 2, 3, 6, 1801, 3, 5, 9 and 10 and was elected Councillor in 1813 and 14. He had buried two wives, and his third one survived him a few years. He had two sons by his first wife, and one daughter by his second, all of which were taken from him by death before his decease; his youngest son was drowned in June, 1797, aged 24. The Judge died May 21, 1819, leaving no heirs. In his will he left a few legacies to his wife, and faithful servants, and the remainder from 10 to $15,000 to Middlebury College.

DAVID REDDING AND ETHAN ALLEN.

In the journals of the Legislature held at Bennington, June 6, 1778, may be found the following: Voted, that the petition presented to this House by David Redding, be taken into consideration; and that a committee of five be appointed to prepare a bill, in consequence of said petition, &c. Committee chosen, Mr. Webb, Mr. Alverd, Capt. John Fassett, Ensign Harris and Major Olin.

Redding had been convicted of enemical conduct towards Vermont which was considered, at that time, unpardonable by the multitude, and sentenced to be executed on the 4th day of June. The curiosity which has ever been manifested on such occasions, was greatly heightened on this, as it was the first public execution ever witnessed in Vermont. To this curiosity was added a strong feeling of indignation which such a crime was calculated to excite in those days. A vast multitude collected to witness the execution. In the meantime, Redding's Council had discovered a very important defect in the proceedings. Redding had been tried by a jury of six only, which was not in accordance with the common law of England, which required twelve. On application to the Governor and Council, the following reprieve was granted just as the people were assembling to view the execution:

"IN COUNCIL, June 4th, 1778.

To Benjamin Fay, Esq., Sheriff of the County of Bennington.—This Council have taken into consideration, this day, the petition of David Redding, now a prisoner, under sentence of death, and do hereby, in Convention, reprieve him, the said David Redding, until Thursday next, the 11th instant, June, precisely at the hour of 2 o'clock, in the afternoon of said day. You are, therefore, hereby ordered to suspend his execution until that time.

By order of Council, THOMAS CHITTENDEN."

On the reading of the reprieve a clap of thunder would not produced half of the excitement manifested. Reasoning was out of the question. The mass had pronounced him guilty, and were not in a condition to understand how the verdict of the whole could, so easily, be set aside by the Governor and Council. While they were agitating what to do, and greatly excited with indignation. ETHAN ALLEN, suddenly pressing through the crowd, ascended a stump, and waving his hat, exclaimed, "ATTENTION THE WHOLE"—proceeded to announce the reason which produced the reprieve—advised the multitude to depart peaceably to their homes, and return on the day fixed for the execution, in the act of the Governor and Council;—adding with an oath—You shall see somebody hung at all events, for if Redding is not then hung, I will be hung myself." Upon this assurance, the people became quiet and soon dispersed. Redding was again tried on the 9th and executed on the 11th, so that Allen was spared to show an act of humanity two years afterwards.

the woods. Not returning, the parents became alarmed and commenced a search, which, with the aid of a few neighbors was continued through the night. The next day a universal turn out renewed, and continued the search till the middle of the afternoon of the third day, when it was unsuccessfully relinquished, and the people assembled who had been out, with a view of returning to their homes. Being about to disperse, a large, stout man ascended a stump, and in a loud voice informed them that the search ought not to be abandoned. Soon every eye was upon him. In the usual manner of the man, after pointing to the father and mother of the children, now overcome with grief and despair, bade each person present, and especially those who were parents, to make the case of those parents their own, and then say whether they would go contentedly home, and not make one more effort to save those dear little ones, who were, probably, now alive, but fast perishing with hunger, and will soon spend their last breath in crying to have father and mother give them some food to eat. As he spoke, his large frame became agitated, and the tears fast rolling down his cheeks, and in an assembly of several hundred bold men of that day, but few dry eyes were among them. "I'll go! I'll go!" was soon heard from every part of the multitude. They soon took for the woods, and before night they were successful in restoring the lost ones to the arms of their parents. Need I inform you that that large man was any other than the brave and bold officer, ETHAN ALLEN? The first night they laid down by a large tree, and the second on a large rock. They found plenty of water but not much food but leaves, &c.

By a law passed in 1849, and which took effect in 1850, the number of Supreme Court Judges were reduced to three, and four Circuit Judges to be elected, one for each of the Circuits to act as Chief Justices of the County Courts of their respective Circuits, and in pursuance of that law, the following Judges were appointed at the last session of the Legis ature. In the first Circuit, Bennington, Rutland and Addison Counties, Robert Pierpoint was chosen. In the second circuit, Windham, Windsor and Orange, Jacob Collamer was appointed. In the third circuit, Chittenden, Franklin, Lamoille, and Grand Isle, Milo L. Bennett was elected, In the fourth circuit, Washington, Caledonia, Orleans and Essex, Luke P. Poland was chosen.

By the above table it appears that Stephen Royce, jr., and Stephen Royce, the same person, has received 24 elections of Judge. Charles K. Williams 19. Isaac F. Redfield 16. Royal Tyler 12. Milo L. Bennett 12. Theophilus Harrington and Moses Robinson 10 each. Paul Spooner Titus Hutchinson and Jacob Collamer, 9 each. John Fassett, jr., and Richard Skinner, 8 each. Daniel Kellogg, Lott Hall, Samuel S. Phelps, Enoch Woodbridge, and Joel Doolittle, 7 each. Nathaniel Chipman, and Jonathan Robinson, 6 each. Noah Smith, Isaac Tichenor, William Brayton, Samuel Prentiss, and Samuel Knight, 5 each. Hiland Hall, Nathaniel Niles, David Fay and Dudley Chase, 4 each John Throop, Peter Olcott, Thomas Porter, Elijah Paine and Ephraim Paddock, 3 each, and the remainder, a less number, making 60 Supreme Judges in 72 years past.

By a law passed in February, 1781, the election of County Officers were given to the people of their respective districts, except the State's Attorneys. The law was very similar to the one now in force, hence arises the difficulty of ascertaining who our County officers were during the continuance of that law, as they were not to be found on the Legislative Journals.

*In the following pages, figure 1 denotes Chief Justices, 2, Assistants, 3, Clerks of the Courts, 4, Sheriffs, 5, State's Attorneys, 6, Judges of Probate, 7, Registers of Probate.

The above are all the Judges of a Special Court that I can find were appointed previous to 1781 Nor have I been able to find by any county records that they had Clerks, Sheriffs or State's Attorneys till 1781. It does, however, appear from other sources that Clerks, Sheriffs, and States Attorneys were appointed previous to the time above stated. Slade's State papers inform us that David Redding who was executed at Bennington, June 11, 1778, was, or had been in the custody of Benjamin Fay, Sheriff of the County of Bennington, (page 239.) By the same authority it appears that Joseph Fay on the 10th of December, 1778, was appointed Clerk of the Supreme Court for Bennington Co., and on the 26th of May, 1779, Stephen R. Bradley was appointed Clerk for Cumberland County, pages 249, 251 and 252 we are informed that Noah Smith was appointed State's Attorney pro tem for Cumberland Co., in May, 1779, and in June, 1779, was appointed State's Attorney for Bennington County. Thus it appears that those officers were appointed notwithstanding the court records do not show it.

In February, 1779, a law was passed dividing the State into two counties. Bennington on the west and Cumberland on the east side of the mountain. If it was divided as laid down in the law published in Slade's State papers, (pages 294–5,) the county of Cumberland would look rather waspish, being but 6 miles wide near the center, but as there was then no town in the State by the name of Bradford, it is presumed that Barnard is the town on which the line should be described; as that would be running a very proper course, between the last and next mentioned points.

Since the above was in type, I have received a letter from the Clerk of the Court in Bennington, which says. "I could not find any Record, nor anything else to show who were the Sheriffs of the County before 1786, but I have just had a conversation with Samuel Fay, who resides in the house where the "Council of Safety" held its meetings in this town, and he says that Benjamin Fay, his father, was Sheriff two or three years, and remembers when he hung Redding, and when his father's time had expired Jonas Galusha took the office, and he continued in it till David Robinson was appointed. He is now 79 years old, and has been Deputy Sheriff 18 years and Sheriff 12, making 30 years in the Sheriff department.

HON. SAMUEL SAFFORD.

On page 37 is a short account of the Hon. Samuel Safford. I have since that was printed found that his grandfather, Joseph Safford, came from England and settled first at Plymouth, Mass., and removed to Norwich, Conn., in 1723. Joseph Safford, jr., the father of Samuel, was born at Ipswich, Mass, in 1705. Samuel Safford was born at Norwich, Conn., April 14, 1737, and died at Bennington March 13th, 1813, being very near 76 years of age. On page 38, last line but one, for 1786 read 1784.

REV. ELISHA HUTCHINSON,

The first minister of Pomfret, had some singularities about him. He was preaching a sermon in Hartland at a private house, with two rooms, and he stood in the door way. When about half through his discourse, Lieutenant Governor Spooner came in, upon which, he informed his audience that he had got about half through his sermon, but as Governor Spooner has come to hear it I will begin it again, and looking at a woman near him says, good woman, get out of that chair and let Gov. Spooner have a seat, if you please.

DUBARTUS WILLARD,

Known more familiarly by the name of Bartie Willard, in an early day resided at Essex, and was a wheelright by trade. He was also a satirical poet, and prided himself on taking some one off in a short way. He was the first Representative of Essex, chosen in 1786, but not afterwards. The next day after he was chosen, he went to pay his respects to Gov. Chittenden, and the Governor had been informed who was chosen from Essex, but thinking to give Bartie a small shot—knowing it would be returned with interest, he asked him who they chose in his town for Representative? Bartie answered, for the want of better stock they took me. "Well," said the Governor. "It's a misfortune that we have got to be so poor in some of our towns about here, as not to be able to get iron, and have to use wood for wedges." "That's a fact, but misfortunes never come single," said Bartie, "it is a greater misfortune that the State is so poor as not to be able to procure a good decent made beetle, but be compelled to use an old basswood maul to drive them with?"

While at the Legislature, he was found by some of his brother members taking his rations at the bar before he had paid the wash room a visit. They insisted that he should either treat the company or deal out some poetry. Bartie concluded that as money was more scarce with him than poetry, he would pay the latter, and did as follows:

"Our forefathers were like the goats,
First wash'd their eyes, and then their throats;
But we their sons have grown more wise,
First, wash our throats, and then our eyes."

Bartie was driving a team with a load of hay, and upset the load, and he came into a ditch so situated that he could move some, but could not extricate himself. A man, who had a short time previous sworn out of jail on a debt Bartie held against him, came along and found there was trouble, went to work and removed the load, and out came Bartie from under it. Now Bartie, what would you have done if I had not come along and helped you out. I would do as you did, stayed there twenty days and swore out.

freshet had carried away many of the bridges. At Middlesex the coach and horses forded the river and the passengers passed over in a small boat, which made three or four loads. After Judge Paddock had got into the boat, the boatman gave Judge Hutchinson an invitation to get in. He remarked that he should not cross over the river in a boat with Judge Paddock, and another got in, and all crossed safe. JOSEPH BOWKER, ESQ.

In a late publication, in a note from the above name, I find an account, from which I make the following statement: Joseph Bowker came to Rutland at an early period of its settlement and was active and energetic in his opposition to the unjust claims of New York, and was among the first in effecting a general organization of the inhabitants of the Grants in opposition to those claims. This opposition, in an organized form, was first effected by a convention which met at Dorset in January, 1776, at which time an association was formed and entered into "to defend by arms the liberties of these United American States against the fleets and armies of Great Britain."

*This Convention ratified the United States' Constitution before her admission into the Union.

mains of the man are deposited, which the people of Rutland took so much pride to honor while living; and he left no descendants, nor is there any one living that is able to tell those less important items in his public life. I hope and trust for the honor of the town, that the State, County, or town will in some suitable manner raise something to his grave that will commemorate his memory.

DAVID ROBINSON.

This man was born in Hardwick, Mass., Nov. 22, 1751, and was an early resident of Bennington and a soldier in the memorable battle in that town, August 16, 1777. He held the office of Sheriff of that county from 1787 to 1810, with the exception of two years, making 22 years, which is a longer time than that office has been held by any other person in the State. He was United States Marshall eight years, a Major General in 1812, and a member of the Constitution Convention of 1828. He died at Bennington, Dec., 1843, aged 89.

GEN. SAMUEL FLETCHER

Was born in Grafton, Mass., in 1745. At the age of seventeen he enlisted as a soldier in the old French war and served one year. On his return he learned the trade of a Blacksmith and followed it four years, when he married a young lady with a handsome property, and, resigning the sledge, removed to Townsend to wield the axe among the trees of the forest. On the commencement of the war in 1775, he joined the American Standard at Bunker Hill, as orderly sergeant. He returned to Townshend in January, 1776, where he was chosen captain of Militia. Being a prominent man, he was ordered to raise as many minute men as possible in his vicinity, to be ready to march at the beat of the drum. His whole company volunteered, and in 1777 they marched to Old Ti, for the aid of the American army there besieged. On this expedition with 13 volunteers, he attacked a British force of 40 men, killed one and took seven prisoners, without loss to his own men. He soon after received a Major's commission, and continued in the service till after the capture of Burgoyne. After his return he rose to the office of Major Gen-

f Militia. He was the first representative from Townshend, in the first legislature holden after option of the first Constitution in 1777, and was twice re-elected, and at the last election he osen Councillor also, and held that office till 1790, and two years afterwards, 13. In 1788 he iosen Sheriff of the county, and held that office in succession 18 years, the longest held by one in the State, in succession. He was two years or more Judge of the County Court. He died 15, 1814, aged 69 years.

HEMAN LOWRY,

Of Jericho, was a member of the Legislature one year, and 10 years United States Marshall, and held the office of Sheriff of the county 18 years, the longest of any one in that county. He died at Burlington, where he resided a number of years, some 6 or 8 years since.

JONATHAN BELL,

Of Rutland, is the next on the list and was Sheriff of the county 16 years, and has long occupied a small piece of land in the burying ground a little North of Rutland village.

JOSEPH SCOTT,

Of Craftsbury, comes in for a short notice, by having held the office of Sheriff of Orleans Co, for a longer term than any other, 14 years. He was seven years a member of the Legislature, one year a member of the Council of Censors and two years a member of Constitutional Conventions, and Judge of Probate six years. He died about 1841. His son Joseph, was elected Town Clerk in 1829, in room of Governor Crafts, who had held that office since 1792, and is the present Town Clerk The town have had but two clerks, both of which are now living, 1751. Joseph Jr., was two years a member of the Legislature and has held many important town offices of various kinds. Harvey Scott, which I presume is a son of the Sheriff, took the office of Sheriff one year after his father's time expired, and held it eleven years. So it seems that office is hereditary in the family.

CALVIN FLETCHER,

Of Grand Isle County, was Sheriff 11 years, and a member of the Legislature once. Whether dead or living, is unknown to the compiler.

JOHN CHIPMAN,

Was the first person that came nto Middlebury with a view of settling in 1766, but soon abandoned it In 1773 he came again, and was drove off with the others in 1776. In 1784 he turned the third time and remained till his death in Aug., 1829. He was a Captain in the Revolutionary war, and many curious things are among his records in the Town Clerk's office. He, Joshua Hyde and Stephen Goodrich, were the first selectmen chosen in town, in 1787, and all lived till 1829. He was 12 years Sheriff of the county, and held some other offices in town. In the other counties the Sheriff's term of office was shorter, Nathan Fuller, of Caledonia, held it 11 years. Asaph Fletcher, jr., of Windsor, and Joseph Edson, of Orange, 10 years each. Edson was Marshall 6 years. Prince B. Hall, of Franklin, Greenleaf Webb, of Essex, and John Peck, of Washington, 8 each, and all but one in Lamoille two each.

GOV. ISRAEL SMITH.

A few years since I was at Rutland on business, and spent the Sabbath there, and, as is my usual custom took a walk to the burying ground. I soon came to the grave stone of Ex-Gov. Israel Smith, who had filled a page of his country's history with honor to himself. He graduated at Yale College in 1781, studied law, and removed to Rupert in 1783, and commenced his profession. In 1785, 88, 89 and 90 he represented the town of Rupert in the Legislature, and in 1791 removed to Rutland, and in 1797 was chosen a representative in the General Assembly. He was in high repute as a lawyer, and such was the estimation of his talents that in 1781 he was chosen, together with such noted men as Isaac Tichenor, Stephen R. Bradley, Nathaniel Chipman, Elijah Paine, Ira Allen and Stephen Jacob, Commissioners, to adjust the controversy between Vermont and New York. In 1791 he was a member of the Convention that assented to, and adopted the United States Constitution, preparatory to its being admitted into the Union as a State, which was accomplished the same year. Vermont being entitled to two representatives in Congress, Gov. Smith was chosen for the western district in 1791, and twice afterwards. During his third term in Congress, in 1796, he became identified with the rising republican party, by voting against the appropriation of funds to carry into effect Jay's Treaty. This being unsatisfactory to a majority of his constituents, Mathew Lyon was chosen a member in room of Gov. Smith. In 1797, the Legislature, of which he was a member, elected him Chief Judge of the Supreme Court. He was a noble looking man, and got the name of "the handsome Judge." At the Vergennes Slaughter in 1798, Gov. Smith was not re elected. In 1800 he was again chosen a member of Congress which he held one term, and at the end of which he took his seat in the United States Senate in March, 1803, which office he resigned on being chosen Governor of the State in October, 1807. While Governor he called the attention of the Legislature to the mode of punishment then existing, and to his influence was the present penitentiary system adopted. He held the office but one year, during which his health was much impaired His grave stone was worded so different from most others, that I took a copy of it, and is as follows:

"The Honorable Israel Smith, born at Suffield, Connecticut, April 4th, 1759, and died at Rutland, Vermont, Dec. 2d, 1810.
No lengthened scroll, no praise encumbered stone,
My epitaph shall be my name alone;
If that with honor fail to crown my clay,
Oh! may no other fame my deeds repay.
That, only that, shall single out the spot,
By that remembered, or with that forgot."

APPENDIX

DEMING'S CATALOGUE OF VERMONT OFFICERS.

Containing the true date of the charter of each town, and by what state granted: The first settlement and settlers, when organized, first Town Clerk, Constable and Selectmen, the first white person born in the town, and all the Town Clerks who have served twelve years—and the above officers that are now living, and were appointed during the last century. Also, the Justices of the Peace now living, who have served twelve years, and those deceased who have served twenty years. In this part of the work inaccuracy must be expected, as the same name occurs in different towns, which may sometimes be the same person, and sometimes not. I have endeavored to have those cases correct, but probably have failed in some.

In consequence of wrong names being printed in the Journals and Registers, I shall correct. in the last part of the Appendix, some errors in the Catalogue, not yet mentioned therein.

ALBURGH was situated in the north west corner of Grand Isle county, and the state; had three post-offices, Alburgh, Alburgh Springs, and West Alburgh.

Not being able, after repeated solicitations, to learn any late or ancient news from it, I am apprehensive it has Stept out, or ran off the track. From the shape of the town, it took the name of Missisco Tongue; and by that name it was first represented in the legislature by Thomas P. Loid in 1786. It was Chartered to Ira Allen and 64 others by Vt., Feb. 23 1781, by the name of Alburgh. But the settlers did not recognize the right of Ira Allen or any other human being to take possession of their lands without their consent. Lawsuits were commenced and contiuued a number of years; but the settlers held their lands. This grant was for 23,040 acres. Ira Allen and his 64 associates obtained from Vt, another charter by the name of Woodbridge Oct. 26, 1781, lying east of, and joining Alburgh, and to contain 23,040 acres; but not finding land enough in the bounds of both grants to meet Alburgh, Woodbridge was not located. BRANDON, The north town in Rutland county. It has two post offices, Brandon, and Forest Dale. Chartered October 20, 1761, by New Hampshire, to Josiah Powers and 65 others, by the name of Neshobe, containing 22,756 acres. October 20, 1784, the name was altered to Brandon. As to the time the town was organized, authors do not agree. Thompson's Vermont says: "The town was organized about the year 1784, and Gideon Horton was first town clerk." The present town clerk, says: "The first meeting on record was holden January 16, 1787, and Joseph Hawley was chosen town clerk; Joseph Barker, Constable; and Simeon Avery, Moses Barnes and Abraham Gilbert, were selectmen, and recorded by Joseph Hawley." But as the name of the town was altered from Neshobe to Brandon, in 1784, and represented in 1786, I am inclined to believe Thompson is right, and the first record lost, or never made. First born, Stephen June, September 11, 1774, and has ever resided in town. Joseph Hawley was town clerk most 19 years. Barzillai Davenport, from 1827 to 1852, 25 years. BRATTLEBORO, Lies near the south-east corner of Windham county, and of the State, has two post offices, Brattleboro, and West Brattleboro, and 20,000 acres, by charter from New Hampshire, dated, as all agree, Dec. 26, 1753, but is not to be found among the Town Records. The first civilized settlement in this state was in 1724 in the south-east part of this town, on the "Dummer Meadows" by John, Thomas, David, and David Sargeant, jr., Nathan Willard, John Alexander, Fairbank Moore and son, John Arms and Samuel Wells. First born, John Sargeant, and probably the first in the state. For more particulars of the charter, see Dummerston. The first records to be found in the Town Clerk's office, is that Stephen Greenleaf was town clerk in 1781, Richard Prouty and Jonathan Goodnough, Constables; and Stephen Greenleaf, John Sargeant and Samuel Warriner, were selectmen. It does not seem very probable that this was the first organization of the town, considering its early settlement; but as the town had no representative in the Vermont Legislature, till Samuel Wells was chosen in 1780, and having in that quarter some New York notions, the town might, for some reasons best known to its citizens, delay their organization some years. First justice, Samuel Warriner, 1781. Simpson Ellas was town clerk from 1787, 12 years. Stephen Greenleaf, from 1799 to 1844, 45 years, and died March meeting day, 1849, and just 50 years after he was first elected. No ancient officers of this town are now living. * In the year 1785, John Willard, formerly Marshall of the State, of Middlebury, Jonathan Hoit, of St. Albans, Judge of Probate, and Capt. Miles Bradley, who in 1792 & 94 represented New Haven, were living in Sunderland, and were appointed a Proprietor's Committee to run out the town of Pocock. While they were in the performance of that duty, about a mile south-westerly of Bristol village, they came across a rude habitation and found a Dutchman there by the name of John Broadt, as he stated. He had made that place his home, and with no other company but a dog, for twelve years, not seeing in the time any other human face till met by the committee aforesaid. He came from Unadilla, N. Y., a fugitive from justice. He and his neighbor had a serious dispute concerning the line between their lands, and finding his neighbor trespassing upon what he, Broadt, considered his, and having a gun with him, and in the heat of passion shot him dead on the spot. He then shouldered his gun, and with his dog followed in the wilderness to the north-east, till he reached Skeensboro, now Whitehall. Here he replenished his pack, and laid in well for powder and lead, fish-hooks and lines, not forgetting that a number of garden seeds might be wanted about the habitation he had contemplated upon. This committee, on their return to Sunderland, took such measures as gave to the friends of Mr. Broadt, a knowledge of his whereabouts. Capt. Bradley had that season cleared off 4 or 5 acres and sowed it to wheat, 4 or 5 miles below Broadt's settlement, with a calculation to move his numerous family on to it the next season, and gave him an invitation to pay him a long visit whenever he should discover that his family had arrived, and that Mrs. Bradley was a Dutch woman, and they could understand each other, and learn more fully his history. Capt. Bradley had spent the summer of 1786 on his new place till September, when he returned to Sunderland for his family and arrived with them in October. I will now give my informant's own story. "About two weeks after our arrival, one very pleasant day, while myself with eight brothers and sisters were at play on the bank of the river, twenty or thirty rods north of the house, our attention was attracted by the near approach of some creature we took to be the old D—l, or something worse. We all started for the house, scrambling like a flock of sheep, we burst in, darted under the bed, about the same instant we heard our Mother salute him as Mr. Broadt. Father was in the woods but soon coming in, our fears were quieted. I well remember his appearance; he had a fox skin with a tail on for a cap, a frock coat, of the skin of a moose, hair out; trowsers of deer skin, hair out, a short gun on his shoulder, and by his side his aged dog, which had once been black, but was now about half white. He tarried with us till the ensuing winter, when there arrived at our house two men, strangers to Broadt and my father. They presented to Broadt a letter, purporting to come from his brother, who was sheriff of the county from which Broadt fled. They also brought a pardon from the Executive. Broadt readily read them and seemed much pleased with the prospect of returning to his home and friends. My Mother had previously informed us that Mr. Broadt was a scholar of merit." Mrs. Bradley furnished him with a knapsack and provisions for his journey home, which he soon after commenced; but no information was ever received of him afterwards. Broadt had cleared off about ½ an acre, where he raised his vegetables; and a quantity of dried squashes were found in his hut, in the spring of 1787. His dwelling was about ten feet square, hemmed in with hills on 3 sides of it, near a beautiful spring of water, and near the trodden path of the wild beasts from their mountain habitation to the river. His farm was soon covered with bushes and trees; and about 20 years since on removing leaves, &c., to find the fire-place, Chestnut burs were found, and near by a chestnut tree about two feet through, which is supposed to be from the Dutchman's planting, as none grow wild in this vicinity.

At that meeting a full quoto of officers were appointed, but no record is found of the name of any town officer till 1772; but all the records to be found during that time are in the hand writing of Thomas Chandler, and he was no doubt the town clerk each year, and had their other officers also. The early town records it appears, have been so much used as to be nearly used up, but by the perseverance of the town clerk some old documents have been brought up from their hiding places, by which it appears that the town was organized in 1781. First town clerk, George Bondfield. First constable, David McKean. First selectmen, Hezekiah Silloway, and John Taplin. First born, Henry Colby, 1778. In the winter of 1783–4 about 30 families came into the town, and so rapid was the increase, that in 1791 the population was 826, the largest in the county, and more than double to that of Middlebury. Nearly all those that were drove off returned. Organized March 2, 1784. First town clerk, Joel Linsley. First constable, Barzillai Stickney. First Representative, Nathan Foot, in 1778–9. This Doctor Foot had been driven from the town with the others in 1777, and during his absence, knowing the superior goodness of the lands he made many purchases. When the legislature was in session in Oct. 1778, he was there, and in consequence of the land he owned in the town he was admitted as the member from Cornwall, as recorded in the journals, (see Slade's State papers page 276) when at that time no person resided in Cornwall. This explains the difference between Thompson's Gazetteer and Deming's Catalogue in many other towns. Deming took from the journals, and Thompson after the towns were organized. Thompson is right as to Cornwall, Hiland Hall was the first Representative after its organization. This same Nathan Foot, after the Peace, returned to Cornwall, and assuming the office of town clerk, recorded in a small book a number of deeds he had procured during his absence from the town; but no dates appear of the time such deeds were received for record. *An invitation to the poor tenants that live under their patroons in the province of New York, to come and settle on our good lands under the New Hampshire Grants. Composed at the time when the land jobbers of New York, served their writs of ejectment on a number of our settlers, the execution of which we opposed by force, uutil we could have the matter fairly laid before the King, and Board of Trade and Plantations, for their directions.

By Thomas Rowley.

Come all you laboring hands that toil below,
Among the rocks & sands that plow and sow;
Upon your hired lands, let out by cruel hands,
'Twill make you large amends to Rutland go.

Your patroons forsake, whose greatest care,
Is slaves of you to make while you live there,
Come quit their barren lands, and leave them in their hands,
'Twill ease you of your bands to Rutland go.

For who would be a slave that may be free?
Here you can have good land. just come & see;
The soil is deep and good, here in this pleasant wood,
Where you may raise your food, & happy be.

West of the Mountain Green lies Rutland fair,
The best that e'er was seen for soil and air,
Kind zephyr's pleasant breeze whispers among the trees,
Where you may live at ease with prudent care.

Here cows give milk to eat, by nature fed;
Our fields afford good wheat & corn for bread;
Here sugar trees they stand, which sweeten all our land,
We have them at our hand, be not afraid.

Here's roots of every kind to aid long lives,
The best of anodynes and rich costives;
The balsam of the tree supplies our chirgury,
No safer can we be in any land.

Here stands the lofty pine and makes a show,
As straight as gunters line their bodies grow;
Their lofty heads they rear amid the atmosphere, [sing-
Where the wing'd tribes repair and sweetly

The butternut and beach and the elm tree,
They strive their heads to reach as high as they
But falling much below, they make an even show; [woods
The pines more lofty grow to crown the

Here glides a pleasant stream that doth not
To spread the richest cream o'er the intervale;
As rich as Eden's soil; before that sin did spoil,
Or man was doom'd to toil to get his bread.

10

Here little salmon glide so neat and fine,
Where you may be suppli'd with hook & line;
They are the finest fish to cook a dainty dish,
As good as one could wish to feed upon.

11

The pidgeon goose & duck, they fill our beds;
The beaver coon & fox they crown our heads,
The harmless moose and deer are food and clothes to wear;
Nature could do no more for any land.

There's many a pleasant town lies in this vale,
Where you may settle down, you need not fail
To make a fine estate, if you are not too late;
You need not fear the fate, but come along.

13

We value not New Jork with all their powers,
For here we'll stay and work, the land is ours;
And as for great Duane, with all his wicked
They may eject again, we'll not resign. [train;

14

This is that noble land by conquest won,
Took from a savage band, with sword and gun;
We drove them to the west, they could not stand the test,
And from the Gallic pest this land is free.

Here churches we'll erect, both neat and fine,
The Gospel we'll protect, pure and divine;
The Pope's supremacy we utterly deny,
And Lewis we defy we are George's men,

16

In George we will rejoice, He is our King,
We will obey his voice in every thing; [land,
Here we,his servants stand upon our conquer'd
Good Lord may he defend our property.

DANVILLE, The capital of Caledonia county, has two post offices, Danville and North Danville. A part of this town was granted by New York, by the name of "Old Hillsboro," but the people of Vermont did not show due respect to the grant, nor was it entered on record, and is now "among the things that were." A second charter was granted, by Vermont, to Jacob Bailey, Jesse Leavenworth and 73 others, on the 27th and dated on the 31st of October, 1786. But difficulties arising between the proprietors and settlers, Nov. 6, 1801, an act was passed appointing commissioners to examine into the difficulties and report a plan upon which a new charter might be issued, that would do justice to all concerned. Nov. 6, 1802, an act authorizing the Governor to issue a new charter was passed, and was given Nov. 12, 1802, both of which last charters gave it the name of Danville. Oct. 29, 1795, Walden Gore was annexed to the town; and November 2, 1810, half of Deweysburgh was annexed to it, and now contains about 32,000 acres. Organized March 20, 1787. First T. C. The time to fulfil some of the conditions in this charter was extended June 12, 1760, and again July 7, 1763; and how, or when it got the name of Dummerston I have no knowledge, it was as early as 1776. The following extract from the earliest records in the town will show some of the ancient proceedings in relation to the town. Extract,

"The tract of land called Dummerston is a part of the tract of land on the west side of Connecticut River formerly granted to Connecticut government as an Equivalent for some lands which the province of Massachusetts Bay had granted to their planters, which, upon enquiry, was found to be within the Government of Connecticut. In order to secure the property of ye soil to the Massachusetts planters, that government granted to Connecticut the property of sundry tracts of their province lands, one of which was the tract here mentioned, which the government of Connecticut sold to sundry private Gentlemen, among whom were the late Hon. William Dummer and (Simeon) Stoder Esq. whose heirs are now the proprietors of one half of the whole tract on Connecticut River, supposed to contain 4800 acres; the said Wm. Dummer being the oldest proprietor, the tract was called after him, the name is now kept up in acknowledgement of the title from the original grant of the Massachusetts government, which is the title the land is now held by. On the settlement of the jurisdictional line of the province of Massachusetts Bay with that of New Hampshire, the tract of land here mentioned fell within the limits of New Hampshire Government, which incorporated the whole into three townships, including in the middle township the greatest part of the land belonging to the heirs of Wm. Dummer and Stoder, and called the name of it Fullum, by virtue of which the privileges of a town are now held. Besides the town of Fullum what is known by the name of Dummerston including nearly one half of the town of Putney." This being the centre town a part of the grant must be in Brattleboro' It will be seen that Brattleboro', Dummerston and Putney charters are the same date and the same No. of acres.

First settlers, Ralph Parker, Samuel Cook, James Vance, and Samuel Conant, in 1797. On the 6th of June, 1810, about 60 men went to the north end of a long pond lying in this town and Greensboro, for the purpose of changing the outlet in part, from the south to the north, in order to help the mills on Barton river. No sooner had they got the water running, than it began to wash away its former boundary, composed of quick-sand, and a thin crust of clay and gravel next to the water. The washing away of the sand left the crust too weak to hold the water of a pond 1 ½ miles long, and half a mile broad, it broke, and in fifteen minutes the whole water of the pond was on a quick time march for Canada, and sweeping the valley of every thing movable, taking many horses, cattle and sheep, to the Canada market. One rock, supposed to weigh 100 tons, was removed half a mile. The channel at the outlet is 127 feet deep. The water on its passage in some places was 60 feet high, and twenty rods wide, and reached Memphremagog Lake, 27 miles, in about 6 hours. See Thompson's Gazeteer, page 74.

When the town was settled or organized and who were the first officers, &c., is more than the town clerk has informed me, although often requested. The first town clerk I find, was Mills De Forest, in 1802, but as he was the first representative in 1798, the town was probably organized before 1802. F. Justice, Eben W. In 1778, the principal proprietor, James Rogers, became a tory and fled to Canada, by which act the lands were confiscated. April 20, 1780, the state of Vermont chartered the town to Edward Aiken, Samuel Fletcher, and Joseph Tyler, a committee to carry out a resolve of the Legislature of March, 1780. In this charter the town is named Londonderry. In 1795, James Rogers, Jr., petitioned the legislature to grant him one half of the lands of the town that remained unsold, and it was granted. In 1797, he petitioned again for the other half, and alledging as a reason, that if it was right that he should have one half, it was right that he should have the whole, and his petition was granted. F. settlers, James Rogers, Samuel Thompson, and James Patterson, 1774; Glazier, Hellick, Eddy, Montgomery, Allyn, Aiken, and Miller, soon after. Oct. 22, 1795, this town was divided, and the eastern part named Windham. Oct. 21, 1797, a part of Windham was annexed to Londonderry. The first records of the town show that Robert McCormick was town clerk in 1780, and in 1793 Rufus Thayer was constable, and Peter Aiken, James Mack, and Abial Whitman, were selectmen. It is not to be supposed that those were the first officers appointed, but that the early records have gone a journey and forgot to return. First born, David Rogers, son of Col. *In consequence of working off a part of the last form wrong as to the death of Esq. Hyde, I have taken from his tombstone. "JOSHUA HYDE was born at Lebanon, Conn., Nov. 11, 1750, was one of the first settlers in this town, and was honored by its inhabitants for a long series of years, in confiding to his management many of its important interests. He was an unwavering believer in God, as the Saviour of all men. He fell asleep Oct. 14, 1828, aged 78 years."

ESTHER, his wife, was born at Salisbury, Conn., July 19, 1750. She left the place of her nativity in early life, and shared, with her husband the hardships and privations of the wilderness. Was an affectionate wife and mother, possessing a mind and the means to relieve the distresses of the unfortunate. She trusted in God, as the Saviour of all men. Fell asleep, Dec. 19, 1827, aged 77 years."

Daniel Foot, one of the first settlers of the town, had 12 children, two of which died young. His eldest son, Daniel, born Oct. 1748, had 2 wives, died aged 84. George, born Oct., 1749, one wife, died aged 81. Philip, born July 1752, three wives, died aged 75. Martha, June, 1754, two husbands, died aged 77. Huldah, Feb., 1756, one husband, died aged 42. Freeman, Sept., 1759, 2 wives, died aged 83. Martin, Oct., 1761, two wives, living, 91. Stillman, Sept., 1763, two wives, died aged 71. John, Nov. 1765, two wives, died aged 84. Appleton, Aug., 1767, one wife, died aged 64. Nearly all had lived in this town.

†Thomas Meads was the first settler in the town, and the first in the county. He came from Westford, Mass., having purchased a right of land in Middlesex. He came as far as Royalton, with his wife and two or three children. Here he shouldered his gun, knapsack and axe, and set forward, alone, to find Middlesex on Winooski river. He went from Brookfield through the woods to the head of Dog river, following that down to its junction with the Winooski, and over that river to Middlesex, having informed his wife that in a given time he should return, unless he sent her word to the contrary. On his arrival he found Mr. Jonah Harrington had made a pitch and commenced chopping about two miles below Montpelier village, where he tarried till morning, when he went down the river about three miles to the farm now owned by Thomas Stowell, where was formerly a Tavern. Here he made his pitch, and a very good one too, for a farmer; but had he continued down to the village of Middlesex, it might have been much better around the falls in that place. He was so pleased while swinging his axe among the trees on his own land, subsisting on such game as he took with wooden traps and his gun, that his promise to his wife to return was not fulfiled. His wife became alarmed about him—procured a horse, loaded it with provisions and set forth to find her husband. She followed up White river to its source in Granville, thence down Mad river, through Warren, Waitsfield and Moretown, to its junction with Winooski about half a mile below Middlesex village, and crossed that river and travelled up it about one mile, where, to her joy and his surprise, found her husband in the afternoon of the third day, doing a good business among the Maples, Elms and Butternuts. From Royalton to Rochester she had a bridle path, then to Middlesex were only marked, or spotted trees; was often under the necessity of unloading her horse to get him past fallen timber, and often had to lead him some distance. Mr. Meads and family soon moved into the town. Mr. Meads' third son, Joel, was born in Lebanan, N. H., January 18, 1785, she having gone there for better accommodations than Middlesex then afforded.

Sometime in June, 1785, Mr. Meads was gone from home, and on a very cloudy afternoon, Mrs. Meads had to look for her cows, which ran in the woods at large. She started in good season, leaving three small children, one a nursing infant, five months old, alone in the house; not hearing the bell on the cows, she took their track and followed down the river about 1 1-2 miles, found where they had apparently fed most of the day, but no bell to be heard, she then sought their tracks, and found they had gone down the river in lieu of up, to their homes. She found they had gone over "Hog Back Mountain" to Waterbury, one of the roughest places in all creation, almost. The cows must be found, or the children must go to bed supperless. In this dilema she made up her mind to "go ahead," and crossing the almost impassable mountain and following on, found her cows near the present railroad depot in Waterbury, six or seven miles from home. By this time it had become dark, and backed up by a tremendous thunder shower, rendered it so dark, that returning over that mountain in the night was out of the question. In this unpleasant situation she found her way to Mr. James Marsh's, the only hut in that village, and staid till the first appearance of day light, then started her cows for home on a double quick time tune, where she safely arrived before any of her children had completed their morning nap. She concluded that her children had so long a crying spell before going to sleep, that they did not awake as early as usual.

NEW FLAMSTEAD, now Chester.

NEW HAVEN, Lies near the centre of Addison county, has two post offices, New Haven, and East Mills. Char. by N. H., Nov. 2, 1761, to John Evarts, and 61 others, 68 shares, and 25,040 acres. This town has undergone the operation of multiplication and division. Oct. 29, 1789, New Haven Gore was annexed to this town. Oct. 28, 1791, a part of the town was annexed to Weybridge. Oct. 23, 1783, a corner of the town was taken to aid in the incorporation of the City of Vergennes. About 9 square miles of this town were set off and incorporated into a new town, and named Waltham, 1796. The first settlers were in that part of the town now Waltham, before the war, and among them were Phinehas Brown, Joshua Hyde, ——— Griswold, and others, but the settlement was broken up, and the records destroyed, by the noted Jacob Sherwood, a tory and Yorker, of revolutionary memory. Among the first permanent settlers were those above, except Joshua Hyde, with Cook, and Andrew Barton, in the Waltham part, and Capt. Miles Bradley, Enos Peck, Elijah Foot, Elisha Fuller, Bezadeel Rudd, William Eno, and others, in 1785–6–7, in the New Haven part. Org. or first meeting for choice of town officers was holden March 20, 1787, when Elijah Foot was chosen town clerk; Luther Evarts and Asa Wheeler, constables; and Ebenezer Field, Eli Roberts, and Enos Peck, selectmen. Bezaleel Rudd had been the proprietors clerk for two years, 1785 and 6, and had recorded some deeds in the beginning of the first book of records, and signed his name as town clerk, and no other name appears on that book as town clerk, except said Rudd's, till Elijah Foot's is down after March 1787. First born, on record, Hannah Sherman, daughter of Amos P. Sherman, July 20, 1786, and from the record it does not make it certain that she was born in New Haven. The first person born in town, and now living in town, is Martin Eno, in 1786 or 7, but I have no doubt but others in the vicinity of the Fort, near Vergennes falls, were born before any of those mentioned. Jonathan Hoyt was town clerk to 1843, 17 years. Seth Langdon was a selectman in 1791, died aged Andrew Squier*, a

*This family is such a striking case of LONGEVITY that I have concluded to notice it. Andrew Squier, Sen., died at the age of 93. He had seven children, five sons and two daughters. His daughter, Elenor, born Dec. 8, 1757, died in Charlotte not far from 1817. Timothy Squier, born Oct. 1, 1759, now living in Orwell, nearly 93. Andrew Squier, born June 5, 1763, now living in New Haven, aged 89. Wait Squier, born July 5, 1767, now living in New Haven, aged 85. Ebenezer Squier born July 22, 1769, now living in Pittsfield, Mass., aged 83. Amos Squier, born Aug. 7, 1772, now living in Pittsfield, Mass, aged 80.

selectman in 1793, aged 89, is the only ancient officer now living. In July, 1830, a heavy rain fell over the towns comprising the heads of the streams of New Haven river, continuing for 2 or 3 days, swelling the river much above its former freshets. During the last day of the rain many of its inhabitants become alarmed for the safety of their own lives, in houses which had ever been safe from any previous freshet. At the lower falls on the river, at a place then called "Beaman's Hellow," now "Brooksville," just above the high Rail Road bridge over that river, suffered the most severely. Between the Rail Road and the village is a very narrow gulf, not over 15 or 20 feet wide, with a perpendicular bank of solid rock on the south side, and a very abrupt bank on the north, to the heighth of 20 or 25 feet. The night came on with intense darkness, rain falling in torrents, one heavy bridge and a smaller one were carried down the current, and more than probable some of the long heavy strings got entangled from bank to bank, and other timber and floodwood accumulating against it in such quantities as to raise the water above to that height that it caused the mills, buildings, houses, &c., to float down stream. Many had exposed their lives in aid of others by being in the water while rising by the operation of the temporary dam, which dam gave way, and 19 persons were carried through the gulf, five only of which were found alive, the other 14 perished, and some were never found.

Sarah Squier, born March 3, 1775, died July 12, 1793, aged 18. It will be seen that no death has occurred in the male part of the old gentleman's family, and their ages united amount to 430 years, and all now living.

The first meeting on record, was holden Dec. 22, 1775, at which meeting Gideon Adams was chosen town clerk, and this meeting was called by Simeon Burton as town clerk, which show strongly that an organization of the town was previous to the one on record, and without much doubt it was in 1769, as Thompson's Gazetteer states. The early settlers were much harrassed by the enemy during the war. In 1774, a line was run from Connecticut river in Barnet, through Peacham to Missisco Bay, which was an aid to all in passing to and from those places, of which the enemy afterwards took advantage. In 1776, Gen. Bayley had orders to open a road from Newbury to St. Johns, for the purpose of conveying troops, provisions, &c., into Canada. When he had made it 6 miles above Peacham, found our army had retreated from Canada, and the opening of the road was discontinued. In 1779, Gen. Hazen came to Peacham with a part of his regiment, for the purpose, as he said, of completing the aforesaid road. He made a passable road for 50 miles above Peacham, through Cabot. Walden, Hardwick, Greensborough, Craftsbury, Albany and Lowell, to Hazen's Notch, between Lowell and Montgomery. This is still called the "Hazen road" and is on the same ground generally that the present road is traveled, between those two places. To a judge of land it would appear a wonder that in all their eagerness to obtain charters of towns, in 1761–2, that such a town as Randolph should be left, and such as Ferdinand, Lewis, Glastenbury, and many others be taken.

RANDOM, altered to Brighton, Nov. 3, 1832.

READING, Is near the centre of Windsor county, has three post offices, Reading, South Reading, and Felchville, and 23,000 acres. Chartered July 6, 1761, by N. Reading was granted also by New York, to Simon Stevens and others, March 6, 1772, with 20,800 acres, but the records, I believe, do not show any charter given by

New York. First settler, Andrew Spear, 1772, whose family were the only ones for 5 or 6 years, and their son Ezra, born in 1773, was the first birth among the settlers. It is said that Captive Johnson, born August 30, 1754, as described in Thompson's Vermont, third part, page 47, under Cavendish, was born in Reading, and the monument mentioned, is in Reading. Org. READSBORO' is in the south-east corner of Bennington county, has two post offices, Readsboro' and West Readsboro', and 20,480 acres. By what grant or charter the lands are holden except the fifteen years peaceable possession, is not known. New Hampshire nor Vermont ever gave any charter of this town.

It is possible that New York made a grant of the town, as I find their grants were sufficient to cover 106½ towns of the usual size, in grants of over 2000 acres each, beside an extensive number of a less amount; but where they all are would puzzle any person of usual patience to find out one quarter of them if he had the records. As a number of their grantees found rather poor encouragement among the Green Mountain Boys in the days of Viewing and Beach Seals, it is not probable that many Charters were ever issued on those grants.

The records of the town were destroyed by fire in 1794, and the first records now found in the office are dated in 1794, which show that Joseph Hartwell and Throop Chapman, Selectmen, warned a meeting to be holden March, 17, 1794, for the choice of town officers; and at said meeting, John Fairbanks was chosen town clerk; Henry Davidson, constable; Simeon Thayer, Elijah Bailey and Ezra Amidon, selectmen. The town has had so many good clerks that none have been permitted to hold it 12 years.

First settled, about 1787 or 8.

ROYALTON, Is in the centre of the north end of Windsor county, has two post offices, Royalton, and South Royalton, and 22,320 acres. As to the charter, it is believed that the first settlers commenced under a charter from New York, but the land holders finding that Vermont was of the opinion that the charter was void, and were about to re-charter it to others, they obtained the charter for the citizens and land holders, from Vermont, Dec. 20, 1781, and signed by Thomas Chittenden, Gov., at Arlington, to Comfort Seaver and 62 others. The New York charter is not among the town records. First settlers, Robert Havens and family, in 1771, and Elisha Kent and family, soon after. Some of the early records are missing. SALISBURY, Lies near the centre of the south half of Addison county, has two post offices, Salisbury, and West Salisbury. This town and Leicester were chartered the usual size, six miles square; but after the towns on the north and south of them were located and bounded, it was found that only about eight miles were left between Middlebury and Brandon on which to locate the two towns; each claiming six miles, and leaving the other but two. This created much disturbance in the disputed territory for a number of years, till April, 18, 1796, when the following committee, John Smith, Benjamin Garfield, Joseph Woodward, Eleazer Claghorn, Salathiel Bump, Stephen Hard, Holland Weeks and Elias Kelsey; the three first from Leicester, the others from Salisbury. This Committee reported on a line so described, that each town would have about four miles in width. The Report was accepted by each town, and harmony restored, giving to each about 16,000 acres. Nov. 1, 1832, a part of this town was annexed to Ripton. Chartered by N. H. Nov. 3, 1761, to John Everts and 61 others, 68 shares, and 23,040 acres. F. born, Joshua Graves, July, 9, 1785. F. settlers, Joshua Graves, in 1774, Amos Story made a beginning and built a log hut, which was burned, and he was killed by the fall of a tree the same year; but his widow, with 8 or 10 children, came into town and settled Feb. 22, 1775, and was the second family in town, and received the proprietors bounty, 100 acres, she being the first female settler in the town. The third family was Abbe Waterhouse, whose widow, after his death married Maj. Christopher Johnson, and she died in April, 1850, aged 90. Mrs. Story married Mr. Benjamin Smalley, the first settler of Middlebury, and after his death she married Capt Stephen Goodrich, the first chosen selectman of Middlebury. In this town, as in many others, the Yorkers made pitches of land in violation of the N. H. charters, but were driven off by Yankee, or beach seals. Tradition says that Isaiah Carpenter bought a lot under N. H. and was drove off, and continued away 6 months or more, when he returned, and by skulking about the premises fired a number of shots near the Yorker, and at length sent a ball through his hat. The Yorker concluded he might as well be off, as to remain, as the next ball might go through his head, which he did, and Carpenter took possession of the premises.

*When the Piersons left in 1777, they had harvested a large crop of wheat, and returned during the winter to thrash and secure it. They were attacked by the British and Indians, when a battle ensued on the ground now the residence of Hon. Ezra Meach and in his now elegant garden. The commander, Sawyer, afterwards represented Leicester, in 1788–9. The following lines composed on the occasion gives a history of the transaction:

On the twelfth day of March in the year seventy-eight,
The Britons and Indians invaded our State,
'Twas in Shelburne, brave Sawyer, these wretches did meet,
And fully determined not to retreat.

The first in command was Thomas Sawyer, by name,
In the next unto him were the elements of fame;
T'was young Barnum the Hero, he fought like a man,
Saying, "fight on brave boys," but he quickly was slain.

Our men numbered twelve, & the enemy fifty-seven,
But with this vast odds, when aided from Heaven,
We drove them, we beat them, and caused some to fly,
While others lay wounded & left there to die.

There is three of our men lying dead on the ground,
The rest have return'd & are yet safe & sound;
The enemy lost twelve, and the rest they soon fled,
Some went on their feet, others drawn on a sled.

May the name of the Hero, be never forgot,
Who determin'd to beat, or to die on the spot;
Let the youth of our land his example pursue;
Give the glory to God, and to whom it is due.

*Thomas Rowley, Esq., was rather eccentric and something of a Poet, and rather negligent in dress also. Being solicited to purchase a new hat, as the old one was much worn, and not becoming an officer of justice to wear. He held out the old hat to the merchant, and exclaimed:

"There's my old hat, and what of that?
It is as good as the rest of my raiment;
If I should buy better, you would put me down debtor,
And send me to Jail for the payment."

Oct. 27, 1779, by Vermont, together with North Hero and Grand Isle, to Ethan Allen, Samuel Herrick, and 363 others. That part of the grant which is now North Hero, South Hero, and Grand Isle, was called "the Two Heroes." Oct. 21st, 1788, they were divided into two separate towns, North Hero, and South Hero. Nov. 7, 1798, South Hero was again divided, and the north town was called Middle Hero, till Nov. 5, 1810, it took its present name, Grand Isle.

I received in Feb. a letter from this town without any signer, which stated that the town was organized in 1779. First town clerk, Jonathan Knickerbocker; first Con., Alexander Hoye; first Sel., Timothy Pearl, Ephraim Duel and Thomas P. Loid. Historical facts contradict all this, for the first settler in the town, or on the Island, was Ebenezer Allen, Aug. 25, 1783. It is therefore evident that the above was an organization of the proprietors only, and what confirms it more fully, I find that Ebenezer Allen was appointed the proprietors clerk after J. Knickerbocker, and this meeting was very soon after the date of the charter. I wrote to the town clerk 10 days ago, but have received no answer. I shall have to refer you to him for any further facts.

Constant Reynolds was town clerk 17 years, or more. First settler,* Ebenezer Allen, Aug. 25, 1783. First justice, Ebenezer Allen, 1786; others, Wallis Mott 23 years; Lorenzo Hall 20; Alson Landon 17, and Orange Phelps 13 yrs.

First Rep. Ebenezer Allen, 1788.

*Ebenezer Allen was born at Northampton, Mass., Oct. 17, 1743. Married a Miss Richards when he was 19 or 20 years of age, in Berkshire county, Mass., where his parents had removed. After he had 2 or 3 children, he with Thomas Ashley, a brother-in-law, removed to Poultney, Vt., in 1771, and commenced the first improvements in that town. Here he had a son added to his family, which is supposed to be living, and was the first child born in Poultney. It was not long before he was appointed Capt. in the very famous Regiment of Rangers commanded by Col. Herrick, and soon after removed his family to Tinmouth, where he and Maj. Thomas Rice, were appointed delegates to the convention at Dorset, Sept. 25, 1776, which ended after several adjournments, in declaring Vermont independent. He and Charles Brewster were chosen delegates to the Convention at Windsor, in 1777, that formed our first Constitution. He was engaged in many skirmishes with the enemy, and signalized himself in the battle of Bennington. At one time during that battle, he with only 30 men, taking the advantage of a natural breast-work of rocks, successfully contended against the main body of Col. Baum's troops of Burgoyne's army, causing great slaughter among them, and a temporary retreat. In Sept. 1777, 500 men under Col. Brown were sent from Pawlet to attack Ticonderoga, Mount Defiance, and Mount Hope. The taking of Mount Defiance, defended by 200 British Regulars and Artillery, was allotted to Capt. Allen, Lieut. Isaac Clark, (Old Rifle,) and 40 men. The work was accomplished by surprise, Sept. 18, 1777, not losing a man. He commanded the fort at Vergennes, then New Haven, and many other important services he rendered during the war. Aug. 25, 1783, he landed on the south end of South Hero, with his frame for a house, and lumber for other buildings, of which he made a raft at Shelburne Point, on which he took his family. He kept a public house and a ferry while on the Island. He continued to reside on the Island and prospered, till about 1800, when he removed to Burlington, and opened a public house near the south wharf. He died March 26, 1806, aged 63, and was buried with Masonic honors. His widow died on the Island, aged 88. While he resided on the Island he would relate to his guests, (pointing towards Essex Landing, N. Y.) "With about the same number of Green Mountain Boys, I captured SPRINGFIELD, Is the south-east corner town in Windsor county, has two post offices, North Springfield, & Springfield. Char. Aug. 20, 1761, by N. STAMFORD, Lies in the centre of the south tier of towns in Bennington county, has one post office. Char. by N. H., March 6, 1753, to Elisha Cook, and 55 others, 62 shares, 23,040 acres. On the 9th of June, 1764, it was chartered again by N. H., to Francis Bernard, Esq., and 65 others, 72 shares, and 23040 acres, by the name of New Stamford, but it appears that the town has held to its first name, as no act has been passed to alter it. First settler, tradition says a man by the name of Raymond was the first person in the town; he built a cabin against a large rock 14 feet high, 25 wide, and 33 feet long, about a mile south of the centre of the town, and against that rock he baked the first Johnny-cake ever baked in the town, and from that he ever after went by the name of Rock Raymond. The first town meeting to be found on record, was held March 14, 1780, when Israel Mead was chosen town clerk; Amos Mead, Con.; and Edward Higley, Benjamin Tupper, and Israel Mead, selectmen. This is not probably the first organization, as many of the old records are lost, and all the proprietors' records also. First born, on record, was Josiah Tupper, May 2, 1772. Otis Phillips was town clerk to 1846, 32 yrs. First justice, Oliver Smith, 1786; others, Otis Phillips 41 years; Stephen C. Millerd 20; JOHN L. WILMARTH 19, and James Houghton 12 years.

about 50 of the rear guard of the British army, on their retreat to Canada; also, their boats, horses, cows, goats, and I suppose all the equippage of Old Ti, and Crown Point." It was done, he said, by a Ruse, representing the woods to be filled with Herrick's Rangers, which struck a terror to all the British troops, if they were supposed in be near.

The following is from the records of Bennington, verbatim, which shows that some in ancient times were more willing to yield up their rights, than to aid in perpetual Slavery.

STOWE, Is the south town in Lamoille county, has one post office. Char. June 8, 1763, by N. H., to Joshua Simmons and 63 others, 70 shares, & 23,040 acres. Nov. 11, 1848, the town of Mansfield, except a small part that had been before set to Underhill, was annexed to Stowe. Mansfield was chartered by N. H., to Jeremiah Travise and 64 others, 71 shares, & 23,040 acres, June 8, 1763. Those two grants are the only ones made in that county by New Hampshire; and to a land speculator of the present day, it may seem very strange that a town like Mansfield should be taken, and such towns as Cambridge, Johnson, and Morristown, left to be chartered many years afterwards. Stowe was first settled about 1793. Org., as reported, in March 1797. First town clerk, Josiah Hurlbert. The Town Clerk wrote me that the town was Org. in 1753, F. T. C. William Young; F. Con. Abner Hazeltine; F. Sel. John Hazeltine, Isaac Barnard, Benjamin Woodbury, Benjamin Mark and William Young. F. born. unknown. None of the ancient officers are living. On comparing this statement with the fact, that the town had no inhabitants till 1761; I concluded that in case such an organization and choice of officers was on the records, it was a Proprietors meeting only. Eight days ago I wrote to the Clerk for an explanation, but have not received any answer. Z. Thompson says, "the first town meeting was on the 30, of May, 1771, Joseph Tyler, F. T. C."

Ephraim Wheelock was town clerk 12 years; Silas Ball 12 years. VERGENNES, Is the only incorporated City in the State, it lies in the north-westerly corner of Addison county, has one post office. It was incorporated into a City by the Legislature of Vermont, Oct. 23, 1788, by taking the corners of three towns, Ferrisburgh, New Haven, and Panton, and contains nearly two square miles. This statement, I regret to say, not only differs from historians, but it differs from my own also, in Ferrisburgh, New Haven, and Panton; for in each of those towns I took the statement of history, which is, that Vergennes City was incorporated from those towns, Oct. 23, 1783. When I found that the clerk's letter, which facts he had from Philip C. Tucker, Esq., and excellent authority, on ancient facts, stated it Oct. 23, 1788, I was inclined to think he had substituted an 8 for a 3; but on turning to the Journals of the Legislature under the 23d day of Oct., 1788, there I found it, as the clerk had stated, 1788, and no mistake. First settlers, Donald McIntosh, a Scotchman, about 1766–7. First born, supposed to be a daughter of his, about 1770. Vergennes was first organized as a town, March 12, 1789. First town clerk, Samuel Chipman; first Con., Durand Roburds; first Sel, Ebenezer Mann, Alexander Brush, and Richard Burling. It was organized under the City charter July 1, 1794. First Mayor, Enoch Woodbridge; first city clerk, Josias Smith; first Common Council, Sam'l Chipman, Elkanah Brush, Oliver Pier, Eli Roburds, Ebenezer Huntington, and Jacob Redington. Not one of the above named, or any of the ancient officers are now living, except Calvin Harmon a constable in 1797–8. William H. White was town clerk to 1850, 17 yrs. F. justice, William Brush, 1787 and 8; others, Enoch D. Woodbridge, 41 years in succession; PHILIP C. TUCKER, 26; John Thompson, 21; JOHN PIERPOINT, 20; Isaiah Scott, 19; William H. White, 18; Willie Lawrence, 17; GEORGE W. GRANDEY 14; Cyrus Smith 14; Samuel Wilson, 13; Rodman Chapman, 12; and Jared M. Taylor, 12 years.

VERNON, Is the south-east corner town in Windham County, and of the State, has one post office. Char. by N. H., Sept. 3, 1753, to Ebenezer Alexander, and 94 others, 101 shares, & 23,040 acres, including land on both sides of Connecticut river. An alteration in this charter was made, or another issued, Sept. 26, 1753, which made the land into two towns, dividing them by the west bank of Connecticut river, and named Hinsdale in each charter. New York granted some part of this town by the name of Hinsdale, and Fall Town Gore, no dates found. Oct. 21, 1802, it was altered to Vernon. This was one of the first settled towns in the state, and the settlers suffered many hardships from the Indians, for many years. The town was early organized, but by the loss of the records by fire in 1789, it cannot be found when. By old Deeds found, and re-recorded, it appears that John Bridgman was town clerk as soon as 1785, and was the first one elected, but probably some years before 1785, he served till his death in 1803, 18 years or more; Cyrus Washburn was town clerk from 1804, some out, to 1842, 28 years; Marshal Whithed 11 or 12 yrs. Jarijah Thayer, a selectman in 1799, is the only ancient officer now living, aged 90, and walks 5 or 6 miles in a day during the past year, and said to be the last Revolutionary pensioner left in that county. F. justice, Arad Hunt, 1786; others, CYRUS WASHBURN, to 1852, 47 years in succession, and has probably married more persons than any other justice of the peace in Vermont; Nathan W[illegible] Stebbins, 19; Eli [illegible] FRANKLIN, 15; and [illegible] Jr., 13 yrs. F. Rep. [illegible]

First Rep. Benjamin Wait, 1795.

*Gen. Benjamin Wait was born in Sudbury, Mass., Feb. 13. 1737; was blessed with a vigorous constitution, and while a youth gave evidence of a talent for military exploits. When at the age of 18, he entered the service of his country under the brave Gen. Amherst. In 1756, he was taken by the French, carried to Quebec, and to France, or near the coast, when he was retaken by the British and carried to England. In the spring of 1757, he returned to America, and 1758 assisted at the capture of Louisburgh. The two next years he aided to reduce Canada to submission. He was in many important and dangerous enterprises, but generally successful. At the age of 25, he had been engaged in 40 battles and skirmishes, often receiving the enemy's balls through his clothing, but never received a wound. In 1767, he and his family removed to Windsor, Vt. He acted the part of a true Green Mountain Boy in their controversy with New York. In 1776, he entered the U. S. service as Capt., and fought under the banners of Washington till the war closed. He had been promoted to a Col., and after his return home was made a Brigadier General of Militia. Was seven years high sheriff of Windsor County; three years represented Windsor, and seven years Waitsfield, in the Legislature. He purchased largely in his new town, and lived to see the wilderness subdued into fruitful fields, and having a competence sufficient to satisfy every worldly appetite. He died in 1822, aged 86,

WARREN GORE, Is an uninhabited tract of land in the north-westerly corner of Essex County, containing 6380 acres, and belongs to the town of Warren, and unless it was chartered with Warren, I find no authority to tell when it was chartered.

WASHINGTON, Lies north-west of the centre of Orange County, has one post office. Gran. Nov. 6, 1780. Char. Aug. 8, 1781, to Elisha Burton and 64 others, with 23,040 acres. New York granted the land in this town, by the name of Kingsland, and it was made the capitol of Gloucester county. The grant was previous to May 29, 1770, (see page 119,) and as the only grant made in that county by N. Y., before May 1770, was made to William Kelly and others, of 24,000 acres, but no name given to it, presumption is very strong that Washington was the town granted by New York, as stated. A number of sessions of Courts were held in this town, and it contained a log Jail also. But it being so difficult for the court to find the town and court house, in 1771, that they soon abandoned the idea of trying, and the courts were held at Newbury and Thetford. It appears that the inhabitants soon after the courts held their sessions in other towns, abandoned it also. It is said that Daniel, and John Morse, were the first settlers in 1785, and that a son of John Morse was the first person born in the town, and received 50 acres of land, and that the town was organized March 1, 1792, and that Jacob Burton was the first town clerk. As I have been unable to get from the town clerk anything whatever, I do not warrant all the above to be true. No person has been town clerk 12 years since 1802. First justice, Abel Skinner, 1793; others, Jacob Bliss, 36 years; Philip Sargeant, 20, and John Colby, 15 years.

First Rep., Thaddeus White, 1794.

Oct. 30, 1850, a part of Middlesex was annexed to this town. F. settlers, James Marsh, wife, and eight children, came in 1784, and remained a year or two, with neighbors no nearer than 7 miles, Bolton and Middlesex. In Sept. 1786, Gov. *Ezra Butler came with his family; and in 1788, Caleb Munson and family, and was soon followed by many others. Org. March 31, 1790. First town clerk, Ezra Butler. As to other officers, &c., I have not been fortunate enough to get any information from the town clerk; you can can call on him for the ballance. Dan Carpenter was town clerk 17 years, to 1829; Paul Dillingham, Jr., 15 years,

*Elder Ezra Butler was one of the first settlers in this town. He came from Weathersfield, Vt., Sept. 1786, and settled on the farm where he died, about 1834. He officiated over the Baptist Church over 30 years. He was a firm man in his opinion to whatever subject he made up his mind to be right. He had a hand in many of the political movements of the day; was of the Jeffersonian school in politics, and remained so as long as that division of parties lasted. He was honored by the town in being appointed to many of its important offices. He was 11 years a Representative in the House of Assembly, and 15 years a member of the Council. In 1803, he was appointed first Assistant Judge of Chittenden County Court, which he held till 1806, when he was elected Chief Judge, & held the same to 1811, when Waterbury was put into Washington, then Jefferson, County, where he was again promoted to first Judge, and held that office 12 years, ending Dec. 1st, 1826. October 1826, he was chosen Governor of the State, and held the office two years. In 1822 he was a member of the Constitutional Convention. In 1806, was a member of the Council of Censors, and from 1813–15, was a member of Congress, making 53 years services in the various offices, beside the town offices at home. This, added to his religious duties, might be supposed would keep him tolerable busy. He was true and faithful in all the various duties assigned him.

When the town of Fairhaven was divided, and not to have but one representative, it was so understood between the inhabitants that each town should have one every other year. In the Catalogue, the Representatives are placed to Fairhaven each year, being so placed on the Journals and Registers. Had they been placed as the citizens understood it, Simeon Smith in 1792 and 97, Oliver Church in 1803–6–7–10–11 & 19, James W. Rosman 1815, and Erastus Coleman in 1818, would have been set to West-Haven, who were all citizens of West Haven at the time they were elected. West Haven claimed Salmon Norton and Thomas Christie also, but Fairhaven disputed the two last only, admitting the others to be correct, as claimed by West Haven.

WESTMINSTER, Lies in the north-easterly corner of Windham County, has two post offices, Westminster, and Westminster West. First grant of this town was by Massachusetts in 1736, by the name of "Number one," to 36 persons, mostly from Taunton, at which place the proprietors meetings were holden till 1742, under that grant at that meeting steps were taken to procure a recognition of their grant from New Hampshire, and no further records are to be found till 1753. Nov. 9, 1752, N. H. gave a charter of the town to John Halbirt and 66 others, 73 shares, and 23,040 acres, by the name of Westminster. A further extention of the time to fulfil the conditions of the charter were given June 11, 1760. The first Proprietors clerk under Mass., was James Williams. The first under New Hampshire, was Josiah Willard, in 1753, and their meetings were held at Westminster for eight yrs. New York gave a confirmation charter of this town March 16, 1772, to Michael Metcalf and others, 23,500 acres. No records are found from 1761–81. This was at the time that records were not esteemed so highly as usual, being considered dangerous for adversaries to have. It is unknown when the town was organized. Elkinah Day was town clerk in 1781, and traditional proof that he had been such for a number of years. In 1777, Day was town clerk, and Medad Wright constable the same year, and how long before, it is unknown. First settlers, John Harney, James Washburn, and Joseph Eddy, in 1739. First born, so long ago that none remember who or when. Oct. 19, 1787, the town was divided into two parishes, and by a stipulation it was agreed that the town clerk should be changed yearly to the other parish. From 1810–43, the Rev.* Sylvester Sage of

*Rev. Sylvester Sage was settled over the Congregational Church in the east part of this town, Oct. 13, 1790, and what very few have done, he lived in the town to preach his half-century sermon to his parishioners, Oct. 13, 1840, and died in Jan. 1841. He was a branch of a very numerous family. His Grandfather, Capt. David Sage, of Berlin, Conn., died near the close of the last century, at Berlin, aged 96. His old family Bible which he left to his widow, who was my Grandmother, on my Mother's side, came into my Father's family with the owner, and that part remaining is now in my possession at Middlebury, Vt. The first and last part are missing, and nothing in it to show when and where published. I recollect of seeing in it some 40 or 50 years ago, as follows, or very near it: "Died Capt. David Sage, aged 96. He had had at his death, 9 children; 80 grandchildren; 150 great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild. Total 240. Living 191, dead 49." I have never kept any record of the family, and can give no further account, except that Hon. Titus Hutchinson, of Woodstock, Vt., married a sister of Sylvester Sage, and she has been dead six or eight years.

In looking over the list of settled ministers in Vt., in 1802, I do not find over one that is now living in the same town, and but 2 or 3 that are living in 1852. But among the list of attornies of 1802, I find 13 or 14 of them are still living.

In 1775, a difficulty arose between many of the citizens of Cumberland County, and the Court of King George 3d, which were about assembling for a session at Westminster; firing ensued, and one of the citizens were slain, as appears from a Tomb Stone, now in the grave-yard at Wesminster, though somewhat decayed. This was the first blood shed in the American Revolution. For a more particular the east parish, and the Rev. Timothy Field of the west, were the town clerks. but Mr. Field got rather more than half, and are the only town clerks that have held 12 yrs. First justices, by the state, John Norton, and Elijah Ranney, 1786; others, Ephraim Ranney, Jr., 32 years; ELLERY ALBEE 27; Joseph Ranney 25; John Sessions 25; Stephen Tuthil 20; Samuel Chipman 18; James Titcomb 17; ALVAN GOODALE 15; IRA GOODHUE 14; Nathan Tracy Sheafe 12, and JOHN MCNEIL, 12 yrs. First Rep., Nathaniel Robinson, March, 1778.

Aug. 17, 1781, by Vermont, to Uriah Seymour, and 64 others, and 23,040 acres, by the name of Westford, and how or when it got its present name I have no means of knowing, but I believe it was before it was inhabited. I find it was as early as 1802. First settled in 1800. First born, David Hunter, time unknown. Org. March 19, 1805. First town clerk, Jabez Hunter; first Con., Lott P. Woodruff; first Sel., Jerathmel Cummings, Allen Wait, and Lott P. Woodruff. As the town clerk did not inform me who of the above named are living, I cannot inform the reader as to that. First justice, Jabez Hunter, 1803; others, PETER GILLMAN, 15, and Ethan Blodgett, 12 years.

First Rep., John C. Page, 1833.

H., Oct. 13, 1761, to Nathaniel House, and 65 others, 23,500 acres, and not in 1762, with 18,000 acres, as stated in Andover, which I had from the town clerk of Andover, previous to my examining the records of the Charters at Concord, N. H. Benton's Gore was Char. to Samuel Benton, and 21 others, Oct. 25, 1781, (not 26, as stated in the proper place,) by Vt., with 5000 acres. Org. in 1800. WEYBRIDGE, Is located near the centre of Addison County, has one post office. Char. by N. H., Nov. 3, 1761, to Joseph Gilbert, and 63 others, 70 shares, and 25,000 acres; but in locating the town the proprietors were unable to obtain but a little over one-third of their land, as chartered. WHEELOCK, Lies in the northwesterly part of Caledonia County, has one post office. F. settlers, Joseph Page in 1790, Abraham Morril, and Dudley Swazey, in 1791, F. born, John Wheelock Leach, time unknown. First on the records is Henry Sherburn, March 7, 1785, so says the town clerk, but I think it should be 1795, as 85 would be before the first settlement. Org. March 29, 1792. First town clerk, Abraham Morrill, who was the first one in Danville, in 1787; first Con., Gideon Leavitt; first Sel. Dudley Swazey, Abraham Morrill, and Joseph Venon. WHITING, Is near the south-west corner of Addison County, has one post office. Char. by N. H., Aug. 6, 1763, to Daniel Pond, and 47 others, one of which may be John Whiting, as has been stated, 54 shares, 14,424 acres. First settlers, John Willson, and a Mr. Bolster, and families, and others, in 1772, 3, and 4. They all abandoned the town soon after the war commenced, but returned soon after its close, with a large addition of settlers. A Mr. Marshall, Joseph Williams, Joel Foster, Ezra Allen, Henry Wiswall, Jehiel Hull, Benjamin Andrus, Gideon Walker, Daniel Washburn & Samuel Beach. Org. Oct. 16, 1783. First town clerk, John Smith; first Con., Jehiel Smith; first Sel., Gideon Walker, John Wilson, and Ezra Allen. First born, unknown. No one has served as town clerk 12 yrs. Ezra Allen served 11 yrs., and more than any other. First justice, Samuel Beach, 1788; others, Ebenezer Wheelock, 31 years; James O. Walker, 29; Ephraim Moulton 24; Ezra Allen 21, and Arnon Needham, 13 yrs. First Rep., Samuel Beach, 1784.

WHITINGHAM, Lies in the southwest corner of Windham County, has two post offices, Whitingham, and Jacksonville. It does not appear that this town was ever chartered by New Hampshire or Vermont. There are four grants of land by N. Y., amounting to 9000 acres, to different persons, and different dates, by the name of Cumberland, which was formerly the name of Whitingham. One dated Dec. 3, 1766, the others April 23, 1767, but whether these grants were for land in Whitingham, I have not the means of knowing. I find three other grants, of about 75,000 acres in Cumberland County, but no name to the towns; granted July 17 and 27, 1770, and June 13, 1771. I think it probable that some of the grants mentioned are now Whitingham, but how or when the name of the town was changed I cannot find. First settlers, Silas Hamilton, and Moses Bratton, 1770. Messrs. Gastin, Lamphere, Angel, Pike and Nelson, in 1773. Org. March 23, 1780. First town clerk, Eliphalet Hyde. First born, unknown; but in consequence of Mr Pike having 23 children, presumption is strong that it was one of them. I have 'got nothing from the town clerk, and for the other facts, call on him. Jabez Foster was town clerk before 1820, 15 years, or more; Hosea F. Ballou, from 1840–52, 12 years. First justice, Silas Hamilton; first by the state, James Roberts, 1786, 20 years; others, Amos Brown, 43 yrs.; Elisha Putnam 27; Reuben Winn 13, and Leonard Brown, 13 years.

F. Rep., Silas Hamilton, March, 1778.

WILDERSBURGH, Altered to Barre, Oct. 19, 1793.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Lies in the north-west corner of Orange County, has one post office. Granted Nov. 6, 1780. Char. Aug. 9, 1781, by Vt., to Samuel Clark and 74 others, and 23,040 acres. First settlers, were Hon. Elijah and John Paine, Josiah Lyman, John Smith, and Joseph Crane, in June, 1784. Penuel Deming, and family, came in Feb. 1785, and Mrs. Deming was the first woman in town. Josiah Lyman and family came next, and Lucy Deming was the first birth in town, May 10, 1785, and the next was Louis, daughter of J. and Eunice Lyman, born Aug. 2, 1785, and each received a 100 acres of land, as voted by the proprietors to the three first women that settled in town; and Mrs. Crane took the third lot. There was some strife between her and other women, and Mrs. Crane arose early, buckled on her snow shoes, took a "bee line" through the snow, on foot, and outstripped all competitors, and obtained the prize. Org. Sept. 4, 1787. F. T. C., Cornelius Lynde; first Con., Joseph Crane; first Sel., Joseph Crane, Benjamin Clark, and James Smith. Pearley Howe was town clerk 12 years; Darius Pride, to 1845, 24 years, and is the only one named above, or of the last century officers, that is living. Weeden*, 13 years.

First Rep., Elijah Paine, 1787.

WILLISTON, Is in the centre of Chittenden County, has one post office. Char. by N. H., June 7, 1763, to Samuel Willis, and 64 others, 71 shares, and 23,040 acres. Oct. 27, 1794, that part of Burlington lying west of Muddy Brook was annexed to Williston, and the east part of Williston was set to the new town of Richmond. F. settlers, Thomas Chittenden, with a large family of children, in 1774, one of which only is now living, Truman, and he now resides in the town, aged 82. Jonathan Spafford, Elihu Allen, John Chamberlin, and Abijah Pratt, in 1775–6, but soon the horrors of war broke up the settlement. They returned soon after the peace, and others soon followed. First born, Cyrus Bradley, now of Berkshire, August 4, 1786. Org. March 28, 1786. F. T. WILMINGTON, Is in the south-west part of Windham County, has one post office. Char. by N. H., April 29, 1751, to Phinehas Lyman, and 57 others. 64 shares, 23,040 acres, by the name of Wilmington. This town was chartered by N. Y., by the name of Draper; but when, is not ascertained, as no trace of it is to be found on the town records. It was chartered again, by N. H., June 17, 1763, to his Exl. Francis Barnard, and 66 others, 73 shares, and 23.040 acres, by the name of Draper. But the settlers, it appears, did not recognize this grant, as it is not on the records, and although some difficulty arose under so many charters, but all had to submit to the one first mentioned. The first settlement was before the war, and the first born, was Rev. Zepheniah Swift, Jan. 20, 1771. The first town meeting on record was holden Jan. 19, 1778, and Caleb Alverd was their town clerk; when he was first chosen does not appear. The first for choice of town officers on record was held March 2, 1778, when Caleb Alverd was chosen town clerk; John Pierce, and Caleb Alverd, Cons.; John Gibbs. Phinehas Smith, Samuel Murdock, Elihu Bascomb, and Eleazer Goodman, were chosen a "Committee of Safety. FLAGG, from 1836–52, 16 years. No ancient officer is living. First justice, Jesse Cook, 1786; others, Jairus Hall, 38 years; Chipman Swift 22; Lancey Forbes 22; Timothy Castle 19; STEPHEN P. FLAGG 18; Azor Smith 17; Alonson Parmalee 14; OSCAR L. SHAFTER 14, and John C. Wilson, 14 years.

F. Rep., Elijah Alverd, March, 1778.

WINDHAM, Lies in the north-westerly part of Windham County, has two post offices, South Windham, and Windham. Oct. 22, 1795, this town was incorporated, by taking Mack's Leg, and the eastern part of Londonderry, and forming a new town; of course it has no separate charter, but is under the N. Y. charter to Londonderry. Oct. 21, 1797, a part of Windham was annexed to Londonderry. First settlers, John Woodburn, Edward Aiken, and James McCormick, & before the division. Org. March 14, 1796. F. T. C., James Aiken; first Con., Peter Aiken; first Sel., James Aiken, John Burnap, and Benjamin Pierce. John Aiken was town clerk from 1797 to 1818. 21 years; WILLIAM HARRIS, from 1829–52. 2 years out, 22 years. Luther Stowell, a selectman in 1800, is the only ancient officer living. First born, unknown. F. justice, James Aiken, 1797; others, John Woodburn, 33 years; Samuel Godard 31; Richard Kelly 29; TIMOTHY BURTON 28; WILLIAM HARRIS 23; John Aiken 20; JOSEPH WOOD 18; James White 15, and Ezra Pierce, 14 years.

First Rep., John Aiken, 1805.

WINDSOR, Is the south centre town of the east range of towns in Windsor County, has one post office. Char. by N. H., July 6, 1761, to Samuel Ashley, and 58 others, 65 shares, and 23,500 acres. It was granted by N. Y. July 7, 1766, to David Stone, 2d, and others, with 24.300 acres. Another grant was made of the same, by N. Y., March 2d, 1772, to Zed. and David Stone, & others, with 23,000 acres; and to complete it, N. Y. gave a charter of the town March 28, 1772, to Nathan Stone, & 22 others. It appears that the land holders in Windsor, during the controversy between the settlers on the N. H. grants and New York, became a little frightened about their N. H. title; they deeded their lands, in trust, to Col. Nathan Stone, who surrendered them to Gov. Tryon, of N. Y., and received in return the last mentioned charter. Under the allotment of shares of the first Charter, the public rights were so located as to be of some use to those for whom they were intended; but under the last charter, by the operation of some different mode of allotment which was resorted to, all those public rights are very near together, and on the almost unapproachable part of Ascutney Mountain, and the land worthless when you get to it. It is said to be "an ill wind that blows no where," and if certain individuals have been enabled by the operation to pocket a few more dollars, does it not follow that they will have to pay out more for the purposes those lands were to aid, in consequence of their being useless? In 1814, this town was divided, and the west part named West Windsor, but in 1815 that law was repealed. On the 26th of Oct. 1848, the town was again divided, and the west part named West Windsor. F. settlers, Capt. Steele Smith, and family, in August, 1764; Deacons Hezekiah Thompson, and Thomas Cooper, Maj. Elisha Hawley, and Capt. Israel Curtis, in 1765. A Mr. Solomon Emmons and wife, were here previous to the arrival of Capt. Smith. He lived in a hut, and no improvements about it. She became a very useful person as the county settled, being a midwife, and the only one in those regions for a great distance. She lived till 1833, and was a town pauper for many years. F. born, Samuel Smith, son of Steele Smith, July 2, 1765, and died in 1842, aged 77. The first female born in town was Polly, a daughter of Nathan and Mary Stone, April 26, 1767, and now living. The first death in town, was Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of William Dean, Dec. 22, 1766. The town clerk informs me that the first town records he finds commence Feb. 17, 1786, and Briant Brown was town clerk; Benjamin Cady, and Oliver Barrett, Cons.; and Briant Brown, Benjamin Wait, Stephen Jacob, Charles Leavens, and Thomas Cooper, selectmen. It is not to be presumed that this was the first organization, for Z. Thompson says the town was rapidly settled, and soon organized, and that Thomas Cooper was the first town clerk. William Hunter was town clerk in 1802, and 18 years after, and probably some before. No one has served 12 years since. Of the ancient officers, whether living or dead, I have no information, except as I have noted them. First justices, Thomas Cooper, & Briant Brown, 1786; others, Charles Leavens, 34 years; CARLOS COOLIDGE 27; Asa Aiken 25; Allen Wait 17; Edward R. Campbell 15; Francis E. Phelps 12; William Tileson 12, and William H. Sabin, 12 years.

First Reps., Ebenezer Curtis, and Thomas Cooper, March, 1778.

Oct. 31, 1843, the name of the town was altered to Woodbury. First settled, just before 1800. I have been unable to procure one line of information from the town clerk, and shall have to direct you to him for what is lacking. Asaph Town was town clerk 17 years. First justice, William West, 1807; others, Joel Cilley, 28 years; EBENEZER BRUCE 22; ASAPH TOWN 19; Stephen Chapman 17; David Herrick, 17; JACOB T. JACKSON, 16; Stephen C. Burnham 13, and James R. Norcross, 12 years.

F. Rep., Elisha Benjamin, Jr., 1812.

WOODFORD, Is in the centre of the south half of Bennington County has one post office. Char. by N. H., March 6, 1753, to Elihu Chauncey, and 59 others, 66 shares, and 23,040 acres. Aug. 12, 1762, the time to fulfil some of the conditions of the charter was extended. First settled, soon after the close of the revolutionary war. First born, Phebe Eddy, April 22, 1793, now living in Woodford. Org. Feb. 11, 1789. F T. C., Mathew Scott; first Con., John Safford, chosen June 19, 1789; first Sel., to be found on record, Elkanah Danforth, David Lyman, Jr., and Robert Hill, chosen in 1802. All the above meetings, held previous to 1802, were proprietors meetings, and held in Bennington. William Park was town clerk from 1814–33, 19 years. It appears that Benjamin Reed was proprietors and town clerk from 1792 to 1803; it is therefore sure that he was the first town clerk, chosen when the first selectmen were, in 1802, which was probably the time the town was org. as a town. First justice, Elkanah Danforth, 1800; others, William Park 19, and JOSEPH KNAPP, 12 years.

First Rep., Elkanah Danforth, 1800.

WOODSTOCK, Lies in the centre, and is the shire town of Windsor County, has two post offices, Woodstock, and South Woodstock. Char. by N. H., July 10, 1761, to David Page, and 61 others, 68 shares, & 24,900 acres. New York granted this town to Oliver Willard, or Williams, and others, Feb. 28, 1771, and Chartered June 3, 1772, with 23,200 acres. First settler, was James Sanderson, and family, in 1768. First settlers, George Martin, and John Ridlan, in 1797. Org. March 3, 1803. First town clerk, John Young. This town, like some others at the north, was nearly deserted during the 10 cold seasons following the great eclipse of the Sun June 16, 1806. In 1816, three families only were left in the town, and the town lost their organization; but the warm seasons following, the citizens returned, and the town re-organized in March 1821, and Amasa Brown chosen town clerk. The town clerk of this, and a few other towns, remind me of the old Indian's dog. He said, "I have an excellent dog, but still he has one failing, he has so much business of his own to attend to, that he cannot get time to attend to mine at all," and I shall have to refer you to the town clerk for what is lacking. Amos Rice was town clerk to 1847, 16 years. First Constitution of Vermont.

I have used much exertion and expense in trying to obtain a list of the delegates who formed our first Constitution in July, 1777, and the following is all that I have been able to obtain. There were others, no doubt, and probably many were the same persons who a short time previous declared Vermont independent. See page 7 for the list of members.

Thomas Chittenden and William Gage, Guilford, Benjamin Carpenter, Hartford, Joseph Marsh, Marlboro, Francis Whitmore, Newbury, Jacob Bayley and Reuben Foster, Rockingham, Joshua Webb and Reuben Jones, Rutland, Joseph Bowker, Pres., Tinmouth, Ebenezer Allen and Charles Brewster.

There is a whig majority of 8 to 12 in each house, 9 new members in the Senate & 13 of last years; House, 92 new, & 60 of last years.

I have endeavored to make a correct list of the Legislature as possible in the time, and have to put it to press with some omissions, and some wrong names no doubt, but I have left the blanks to insert the right ones when it is ascertained.

When I took from the Legislative Journals and Registers, the list of Representatives, at Montpelier, in January, 1851, with the thermometer 20 degrees below zero, I did expect that if people represented a town they would be on hand some time in the first two weeks of the session, which was about as far as I thought fit to examine in such weather. But some I found claimed as being members for themselves, or friends, on years that I had not inserted their names in the Catalogue. I therefore took a warmer time at Montpelier, for examination of Representatives, Charters and Justices, and the result is that I have to add a long ERRATA, some of which is occasioned by those who drew the names off for the printer of the Journals; some of which make all the short letters in the shape of a fish-hook, so that no compositor can tell Jacob from Josiah or Jonah.

VERMONT CONSTITUTION.

The 8th section of part second is as follows "The House of Representatives of the freemen of this state, shall consist of persons most noted for wisdom and virtue, to BE CHOSEN by ballot by the freemen of every town in this state, respectively, ON THE FIRST Tuesday of September, annually, forever."

From this alone, it appears plainly that when an act must be done on a certain day, by the Constitution, no other day will answer to do that duty on, nor can it be made so by any statute law whatever, unless that law is in accordance with the Constitution of the state. The law relied upon to hold the election for weeks and months, is the 14th section of chapter 1 of the Revised Statutes which says that the voting shall be continued "until an election is made." Here the Constitution and the law clash, and as the Legislature have not the power to make the Constitution accord with the law, it is their duty to alter the law so as not to conflict with the Constitution.

According to the precedents by the Legislature, no freeman's meeting can be dissolved till a Representative is chosen, if one person, drunk or sober, objects to dissolving the meeting, but the same must be continued 12 months. Such a state of things ought not to exist, as more evil than good grows out of it. But if nothing better can be done, make a law so that the majority of the freemen present can dissolve the meeting after midnight, and go home and rest satisfied that the town will not be misrepresented by a vote of the minority, before they awake.

ADVICE GRATIS.

If you wish to keep roads free from mud, keep the water from them, which is easily done, by leaving no hollows thereon, to hold the water, and if hollows do occur, draw the water from them soon after a rain, and then fill the same up with gravel.

If you wish to prevent the water from running into your wooden houses, you can do it by making the clapboards the lowest on the outside, so that the water will not follow down to the holes made by the nails to hold up the clapboard while clapboarding, but will drop so near the bottom of the one below, and no water will run down in those nail holes. In 1845, I tried the experiment to good effect, and have stated it to many joiners, who have all approved of the theory, but do not practice accordingly. Just try it, and I'll be bound you will approve of it.

LATER INFORMATION AND CORRECTIONS.

ALBURGH.—By a letter from the town clerk, mailed Oct. 1st, 1852, which was after the Appendix was printed, I learn that the town is ON THE TRACK, and that Thomas Reynolds was first town clerk, chosen in 1792. First Constable, Wm. Bowles, in 1793. First Selectmen, Samuel Mott, Jacob Cook, Richard Mott and Joshua Manning, in 1793, and none of them living.

BARTON.—Oliver Blodgett, is dead. (See page 125.)

BRATTLEBOROUGH.—Hiram Bass, the first born, is now living.

BROOKLINE. a part of Newfane annexed to, Nov. 13 1820. (See pages 131, and 166.

BURLINGTON.—Zacheus Peaslee, town clerk in 1791, has been dead many years.

GOSHEN.—The north part of Goshen was annexed to Ripton, Nov. 1st, 1820. (See the blank on page 147 and 175.)

MOUNT TABOR altered from Harwich, Nov. 17, 1803. (See dash page 164.)

SOMERSET.—The law annexing a part of Somerset to Dover and Wardsboro, in November 11, 1851, was made conditional, and conditions not sanctioned by the towns interested, so alteration in town lines have been made by said act.

SWANTON.—The first person, but an infant that died young, born in town, was Geo. Green, Senator from Franklin county, born March 15, 1791.

TOWNSHEND.—The first person born in the town was a daughter of Gen. Samuel Fletcher, and she was the mother of Epaphroditus Ransom, late Governor of Michigan, and she died a few years since, at Kalamazoo, about 90 years of age.

WALTHAM, was first Vergennes made so Nov. 1st, 1791 Repealed Oct. 31, 1796, and was incorporated into Waltham, at the same time.

WAKEFIELD.—Cynthia Sherman, the first born, is living in Waitsfield.

WASHINGTON.—Philip Sargeant, a justice of the peace many years, is not living, as stated on page 193.

WESTMINSTER.—First born, Anna Averill, and she was the first person that was married by William C. Bradley, in 1803 or 4, she being some years older than Esq. Bradley.—The exact date of her birth is unknown.

WHITINGHAM GORE.—This Gore is not mentioned in the Appendix. It was chartered by Vermont, Oct. 20, 1796. It is 29 chains east and west, and 174 chains. 50 links north and south, with 506 acres and over; and is now the south-west corner of Whitingham,—bounded south on Massachusetts, east on Col Whiting's patent, north on Col Fitch's patent, and west on Readsboro'. How it became Whitingham, I have yet to learn.

Having examined the Catalogue of Vermont Officers and the Appendix annexed, by Leonard Deming, of Middlebury, we most cheerfully recommend it to every man in Vermont, as a valuable work for reference, as to any statement therein made. The Catalogue contains, as we have reason to believe, an accurate list of all the Executive, Legislative and Judiciary officers from 1778 to 1852,—the Council of Censors, Constitutional Conventions, with the population of the State by towns, at each census. The Appendix gives the true date and origin of the charter of each town,—the first settlement, organization and officers of each town, and much other useful information. It will be found a useful work for every citizen of Vermont.
